Solons Okay R.F. Kennedy For Cabinet

Lack Of Legal Experience For Job No Barrier

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee Friday approved youthful Robert F. Kennedy to be attorney general ignoring a Republican leader's suggestion that the president-elect's brother lacks legal background for the job.

Kennedy, 35, a millionaire, defended his experience in the law, promised an all-out attack on organized crime, and announced he has sold all his stocks to avoid any possibility of a conflict of interest.

OKAY GOLDBERG

At the same time, the Senate Labor Committee okayed former AFL-CIO lawyer Arthur J. Goldberg to be secretary of labor with Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., an old foe of the AFL-CIO leading the cheers for Goldberg.

And three other Senate committees all but approved the nominations of Republican Douglas Dillon as secretary of the Treasury, Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut as secretary of welfare, former Gov. Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota as secretary of agriculture, and Rep. Stewart L. Udall, D-Ariz., as secretary of the interior.

These committees decided to wait for the formal nominations of Dillon, Ribicoff, Freeman and Udall after John F. Kennedy is inaugurated as president Jan. 20. The Senate Finance Committee hearing on Ribicoff's nomination saw one odd note.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., lauded Ribicoff as "one of the ablest appointments made to the Cabinet in a long time."

Even though Ribicoff is avowedly for two programs Byrd strongly opposes. These are a medical care for the aged plan tied to Social Security and federal aid to education.

Dean Rusk, designated secretary of state, was heard Thursday by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which has not yet acted.

Just three Kennedy cabinet choices are yet to be considered by Senate committees — Robert V. McNamara to be secretary of defense, former Gov. Luther W. Hodges of North Carolina to be secretary of commerce and J. Edgar Hoover to be postmaster general.

The entire Kennedy cabinet is expected to win Senate confirmation without trouble, possibly a day (Continued On Page Two-A)

Police Launch Probe Of Fatal Fire In Home

MONROE (UPI) — A full-scale police investigation was ordered Friday upon disclosure that a mother was dead before a mysterious post-Christmas fire destroyed her family's one-room shanty home, killing 11 of her 15 children.

The father, Able Vosburg, 63-year-old unemployed laborer and the only survivor of the early morning fire, was held as a material witness after police exhumed the bodies because of conflicting rumors that circulated after the Dec. 29 tragedy in Noyan, Que. The nature of the rumors was not disclosed.

The body of Mrs. Marjorie Vosburg, 43, was found in the ashes of the shack along with the remains of 11 children ranging from 7 months to 19 years. The family's other children were living elsewhere.

Police were baffled Thursday when the limless torso of a child was found in a snowbank near the fire scene, but upon exhumation of the 12 bodies, it was discovered that the family dog had been buried with the family in the mistaken impression it was one of the children. The torso found Thursday was of the 11th child.

Tremor Is Felt In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The greater Los Angeles area was jarred by a "sharp" local earthquake Friday night at 10:36 p.m. EST, but no damage or injuries were immediately reported.

Police and sheriff's office switch boards in Los Angeles, Glendale, and Pasadena were deluged with calls from persons who reported feeling the shock. The tremor also was felt as a jarring sensation in the Hollywood bureau of United Press International.

Sixth Ouster Attempt Fails

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Three federal judges issued orders today to block the Louisiana Legislature's new attempt to seize control of public schools in New Orleans.

The tribunal acted quickly after five men named by the Legislature to succeed the elected board filed their oaths of office in a state court.

The five also filed an oath of office for Mack Avants, named by the new board to succeed Dr. James F. Redmond, ordered dismissed as head of the city's 118 public schools.

Two schools are now integrated and the object of segregationist boycotts. One Negro and 12 white children attend the William Prantz school. Only three Negro girls attend McDonogh No. 19 where 500 white children once attended classes.

Avants authored a resolution passed by the legislature, condemning Judge Wright for his desegregation order.

The same court earlier in the day issued the injunction forbidding the ouster of Dr. Redmond. Dr. Redmond, who has worked with the Orleans Parish school board in obeying federal court orders to desegregate the first grade, said upon arriving at his office:

By SAM HANNA
World Staff Writer

Louisiana's Licensing Board of Contractors has been stacked with "building inspectors," including relatives and friends of Director Fred Hightower Sr., Gov. Jimmie H. Davis, Congressman Otto E. Passman and various other political figures.

With a total of 86 persons on the payroll, the board's employees are listed as "building inspectors," excluding Hightower and his assistant director.

Hightower, a chief Davis supporter from Monroe and has signed a professional baseball contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Jerome Hightower is employed here by his family's firm. In addition, a friend of the Hightower family, Lloyd Voochies, a Monroe salesman, is listed as a "building inspector" too, drawing $130 monthly.

Meantime, Passman's brother, Otis Passman of Washington Parish, is getting $300 monthly. Another northeast Louisiana figure known in political circles, Nathan Ewing of Jonesboro who ran an unsuccessful race for the state senate, is on the payroll too.

Ike Will Ask Record Sum For Defense

Military Budget Of $42.9 Billion To Be Submitted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower will send Congress a record peacetime defense budget of $42.9 billion, an increase of $1.4 billion over estimates for the current fiscal year.

Even so, it is about one billion less than the military forces wanted to carry out the stepped up defense program which Eisenhower ordered last year. The new funds are earmarked for the new fiscal year starting July 1.

SOME CUTBACKS
Marked for cutbacks and stretch-outs are several aircraft, missile and space projects. Funds for daily operation and maintenance of the armed services also have been given what one official called a "harsh squeeze."

President-elect John F. Kennedy, whose election campaign was based in part on claims that U.S. defenses are inadequate, will be under heavy pressure to increase the Eisenhower proposals.

As in the past, the Eisenhower budget would give about 45 percent of the defense money to the Air Force, which has most of the top priority weapons.

Heavy emphasis is placed on intercontinental missiles and other massive retaliation weapons. But there also is an increase for modernized weapons and aircraft for forces to prevent or counter limited aggression.

The division of money among the services is approximately this way:
Army—$10.4 billion; Navy—$11.5 billion; Air Force—$19.3 billion; Office of the Secretary of Defense—$1.3 billion.

The forces will start the new fiscal year with authorized manpower strength of 2,422,000. The Army will have 670,000; Navy, 625,000; Marines—175,000; and Air Force—$22,000.

Unemployment Is Worst Since '40 For Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment climbed half a million to a 4.5-million total in December. Officials also reported Friday the idle roll likely will top 5.5 million in January.

December's employment situation was the worst for that month since 1940, a year before the start of World War II.

The Labor Department reported December unemployment reached 4,540,000. Employment declined by 1,173,000 to 66,000,000. Compared with a year ago the idle total is up approximately a million, and the number with jobs is down about 100,000.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., calling attention of the Senate to the job picture, said he thought the new figures make it clear "the incoming administration is inheriting a very serious recession."

As the first real month of winter, December always has declining employment and rising unemployment.

But Seymour Wolfbein, Labor Department manpower specialist, said the December job changes were worse than expected for the season. The half-million jobless increase was triple the forecast.

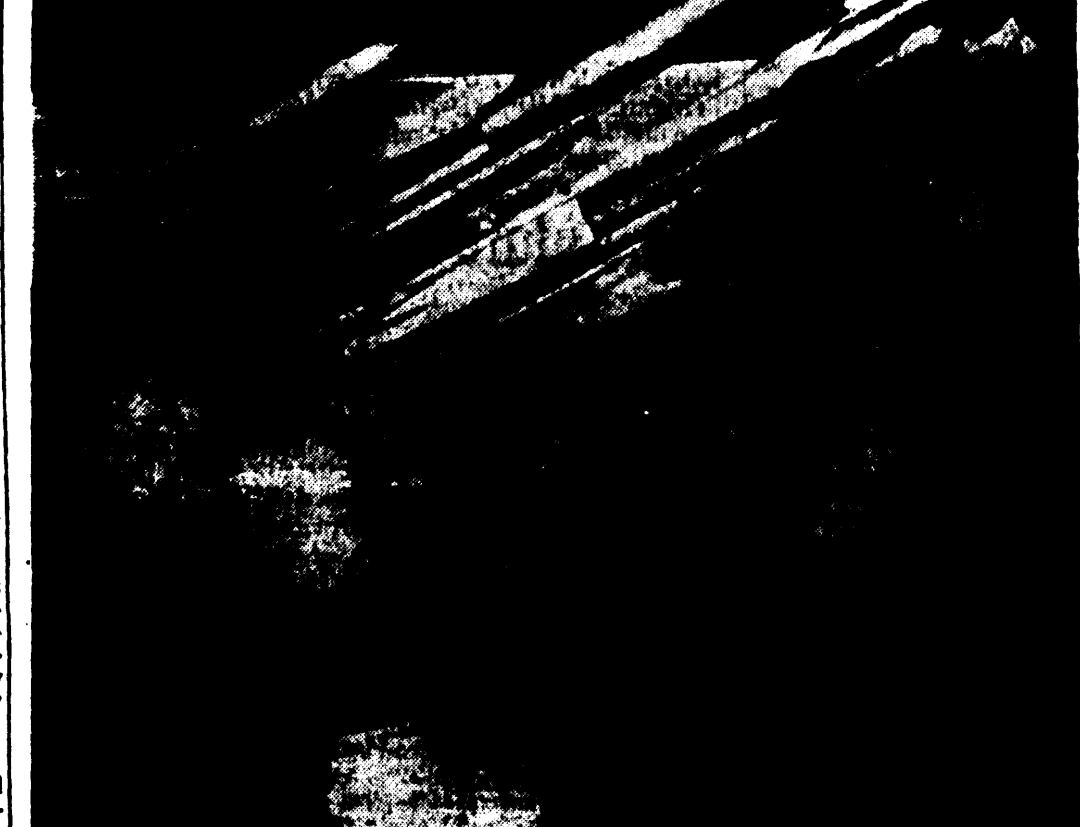

The rate of unemployment to the work force rose considerably. On a seasonally adjusted basis—that is, discounting the weather and other known factors—the rate climbed from 4.3 per cent in mid-November to 6.8 per cent in mid-December.

Cloudy, Warm Predicted Today

Partly cloudy skies today will be accompanied by warm temperatures. The overcast condition will continue through the night.

The high today is expected at 64 with an overnight low predicted at 42.

And that won't be much of a change from Friday when the mercury climbed to 61 degrees and dropped only to 53.

Six Records Set By U.S. Jet Bomber

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A United States jet bomber, flashing high over the desert, has eclipsed by hundreds of miles an hour six world speed records. Five were held by the Soviet Union.

On one trip over a 621-mile closed course Thursday, the B58 Hustler averaged 1,200.194 miles per hour. The Soviet Union claimed the previous mark, 639 miles per hour, set in October 1959 by a plane it did not identify.

The Hustler, a $10-million, four-jet, delta-wing bomber, went twice around the closed course between Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., and a point halfway between Yuma and Phoenix, Ariz.

At the far turn-around point, a 60-degree high-speed bank subjected the three-man crew to forces twice that of gravity. The speed peaked point off the fuselage.

The bomber carried a payload of 4,408 pounds, or 2,000 kilograms — one category set by the International Aeronautical Federation for speed flights with payloads. By carrying that load the Hustler wiped out speed records for 2,000 kilograms and also, automatically, for 1,000 kilograms and no payload at all.

The simulated payload consisted of extra gasoline in the tanks. On one trip at an average 1,200.194 m.p.h. over the closed course, the Air Force said, the Hustler topped:

1. The previous record with no payload, 700.47 miles per hour, set by an Air Force F101 in April 1959.

2. The previous mark of 639.18 m.p.h. with a 1,000-kilogram payload, claimed by the Russians with an unidentified aircraft in October 1959.

3. The existing record of 639. (Continued On Page Two-A)

Stahr In Line For Army Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional sources said Friday President-elect John F. Kennedy intends to appoint Elvis J. Stahr, president of West Virginia University, as secretary of the Army.

Kennedy's announcement of the choice of the university head would complete his selection of service chiefs to serve under Robert S. McNamara as secretary of defense.

Stahr, 44, served as a combat liaison officer during World War II in North Africa, India and China, and rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel.

He became president of West Virginia University in 1959, after serving as vice chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh. In 1955-57 he was director of the President's Commission on Education Beyond High School.

BY RADAR STATION

Mystery Space Object Detected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Air Force announced Friday night that one of its Alaska radar stations detected "an object with missile characteristics" coming out of Russia which may have been either a space shot or a rocket fired into the Soviets' Pacific testing range.

Air Force experts were tentatively inclined to believe it was a space satellite, since more than an hour after launch time they had received no report of any landing in the Pacific.

The Navy announced three days ago that Russian missile tracking ships had been spotted moving into an impact area more than 1,000 miles west of Hawaii which the Russians on two separate occasions have used to test missile stage vehicles.

OBJECT SPOTTED
The object was spotted by an Air Force radar station at Shemya Island, Alaska.

An Air Force announcement said the object was detected "coming out of the Soviet Union and passing in a southeasterly direction."

"Whether this object is a missile programmed to land in the Pacific or a space vehicle is not available at this time," it added. The Air Force said the Shemya Island radar is operated 24 hours a day "and its purpose is to detect and report objects appearing on its radar screen."

A new Russian missile shot had been anticipated with this week's Navy announcement here that the (Continued On Page Two-A)

Pilot Who Crashed, Vanished Returns

QUANTICO, Va. (UPI) — Marine Corps and FBI investigators Friday kept a secrecy lid on the puzzling case of the missing pilot who reappeared 10 days after his $102,000 training plane crashed near the Choptank River on Maryland's eastern shore.

Capt. Ernest C. Brace, 29-year-old Korean veteran, reappeared at FBI headquarters in Baltimore early Friday morning. He had been feared dead after the wreckage of his T28 propeller plane had been found on Jan. 3.

FBI spokesmen said he offered no explanation for his vanishing act. Brace, married and the father of three sons, was returned to the Marine Corps base here for physical examination and informal questioning.

Any Future Suspensions Are Forbid

MACON, Ga. (AP) — A federal judge told the University of Georgia Friday to readmit two Negro students it suspended after campus rioting and sternly warned that no action must be taken to expel them.

Judge W.A. Rouse said that state officials having any connection with the school or the university officials themselves from again suspending Charlayne Hunter, 18, or Hamilton Holmes, 19, or dismissing them.

Boothe ruled that the university's "order of withdrawal or suspension is hereby terminated by 8 a.m. Jan. 16." By holding up the revocation until that hour, the school officials could delay the Negroes' return to class until Monday instead of Saturday.

The injunction against another suspension or expulsion provided that such action could not be taken "on the grounds that the same is necessary for their personal safety because of mob action or violence on the campus."

The decision held that law and order had not broken down in the university town of 20,000 and said the court did not find that authorities are unable to maintain order at the school.

Referring to the violent demonstrations on campus a few hours after the girl and Holmes went through their first classes Wednesday, Boothe said constitutional rights are not to be suspended by violence nor can federal court orders be thwarted by violence.

President O. C. Abernethy of the university was unavailable for comment. Attorneys for the girl and Holmes left the Macon court immediately after the decision.

The judge said Athens police and university authorities had quelled the demonstrations before midnight and that the suspension order was issued later on the (Continued On Page Two-A)

'No Violence' Warning Issued By Georgia U.

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI) — University of Georgia officials warned Friday night that violence will not be tolerated when two Negro students return to classes under federal court order.

Sr. Joseph Williams, dean of students, said that Gov. Ernest Vandiver has promised the "full resources of the state to preserve order" at the university. He said that violence by outsiders as well as students will be dealt with quickly and effectively.

Any student proved to be involved in any violence "will be removed from the university," he said. The dean also said that FBI agents sent here to investigate possible federal violations, will question any student making inflammatory statements.

University President O. C. Abernethy said that "it will be the purpose" of the university to carry out Boothe's readmission order. "We are confident that public opinion and the full resources of the state will move to prohibit the commission of violence by outsiders whose illegal acts endanger life and property," he said.

Williams said that any raucous demonstration will be dispersed immediately and "disciplinary policies will be strictly enforced. He urged the university's 7,000 students to remain calm and go about their academic duties "as normally as possible."

Mystery Space Object Detected

Pilot Who Crashed, Vanished Returns

QUANTICO, Va. (UPI) — Marine Corps and FBI investigators Friday kept a secret lid on the puzzling case of the missing pilot who reappeared 10 days after his $142,000 training plane crashed near the Choptank River on Maryland's eastern shore.

Capt. Ernest C. Brace, 29-year-old Korean veteran, reappeared at FBI headquarters in Baltimore early Friday morning. He had been feared dead after the wreckage of his T38 propeller plane had been found on Jan. 3.

FBI spokesmen said he offered no explanation for his vanishing act. Brace, married and the father of three sons, was returned to the Marine Corps base here for physical examination and informal questioning.

Quantico officials said a formal board of inquiry would be set up as soon as possible to investigate.

Brace's wife, Patricia, said from her home at nearby Dumfries, Va., that she had talked to her husband by phone. "He said he was all right and would see me as soon as he could," she reported.

Officials declined to speculate on why Brace failed to make his whereabouts known in the 10 days since his plane crashed after he took off from Quantico to "get in some flight time."

FBI spokesmen said Brace gave them this account:

After his plane developed trouble over Easton, Md., he bailed out and landed safely. He shucked his flying suit which he wore over civilian clothes and hitchhiked his way to Baltimore.

Any Future Suspensions Are Forbid

MACON, Ga. (AP) — A federal judge told the University of Georgia Friday to readmit two Negro students it suspended after campus rioting and sternly warned that no action must be taken to expel them.

Judge W.A. Bootle restrained all state officials having any connection with the school or the university officials themselves from again suspending Charlayne Hunter, 18, or Hamilton Holmes, 19, or dismissing them.

Bootle ruled that the university's "order of withdrawal or suspension is hereby terminated by 8 a.m. Jan. 16." By holding up the revocation until that hour, the school officials could delay the Negroes' return to class until Monday instead of Saturday.

The injunction against another suspension or expulsion provided that such action could not be taken "on the grounds that the same is necessary for their personal safety because of mob action or violence on the campus."

The decision held that law and order had not broken down in the university town of 20,000 and said the court did not find that authorities are unable to maintain order at the school.

Referring to the violent demonstrations on campus a few hours after the girl and Holmes went through their first classes Wednesday, Bootle said constitutional rights are not to be suspended by violence nor can federal court orders be thwarted by violence.

President O. C. Adherhold of the university was unavailable for comment. Attorneys for the girl and Holmes left the Macon court immediately after the decision.

The judge said Athens police and university authorities had quelled the demonstrations before midnight and that the suspension order was issued later on the

'No Violence' Warning Issued By Georgia U.

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI) — University of Georgia officials warned Friday night that violence will not be tolerated when two Negro students return to classes under federal court order.

Dr. Joseph Williams, dean of students, said that Gov. Ernest Vandiver has promised the "full resources of the state to preserve order" at the university. He said that violence by outsiders as well as students will be dealt with quickly and effectively.

Any student proved to be involved in any violence "will be removed from the university," he said. The dean also said that FBI agents sent here to investigate possible federal violations, will question any student making inflammatory statements.

University President O. C. Adherhold said that it "will be the purpose" of the university to carry out Bootle's readmission order. "We are confident that public opinion and the full resources of the state will move to prohibit the commission of violence by outsiders whose illegal acts endanger life and property," he said.

Williams said that any raucous demonstration will be dispersed immediately and "disciplinary policies will be strictly enforced. He urged the university's 7,000 students to remain calm and go about their academic duties "as normally as possible."

points. I see no point in getting into any arguments."

Dr. Redmond said he was taken by surprise by the legislature's resolution informing him that he was a pretender to the superintendency and had no legal right to the job.

"I thought the Nov. 30 restraining order restrained this kind of action," he said, referring to the federal court reversal of legislative action in addressing him out of office.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' floor leaders Thursday pushed through the ouster resolution which described Dr. Redmond as a "usurper of office." The resolution fixed a maximum penalty of six months in jail and a fine of $1,000.

The government's petition said, "The passage of the resolution is all part of the same concerted scheme and plan to circumvent and thwart the lawful orders previously issued by this court; and to force the closure of public schools in the Parish of Orleans."

The legislature's resolution said Dr. Redmond had violated Act 17 and House Concurrent Resolution 18 of the first special session of 1960.

Many's petition said the act and the concurrent resolution had been declared unconstitutional. The petition also claimed the legislature's action violated the U.S. Constitution.

The three judge court was composed of Judge Richard T. Rives of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and Dist. Judges J. Skelly Wright and Herbert Christenberry. Judge Wright issued the original desegregation order which was put into effect last Nov. 14.

ground that it was necessary to protect the Negroes and other students.

Notified of the decision by The Associated Press, the girl said she was "very pleased and all set to go back to the University of Georgia." She said she and Holmes were "quite hopeful that there will not be another demonstration like Wednesday night's."

She said all she had to do before returning to the school was pack an overnight bag.

"We'll have to confer with our attorneys before any decision is made," she said when asked if they would be in class Saturday.

At Atlanta, Gov. Ernest Vandiver said that law enforcement officers of great experience describe the situation at the university as a "under-box condition" and that "Boothe" took action without regard to the consequences.

But Vandiver said that if a further breach of the peace occurred at the university which Athens officials can't handle, he would make available "such forces as are needed."

Boothe noted in his sweeping order that lawyers attending the two-hour hearing in chambers reported Athens police were confident that they could maintain order "in the case of normal demonstrations."

The jurist said the state's attorneys advised him in the closed-door conference before issuance of the decree that Vandiver would send state police to Athens "to protect lives and property" if notified by local authorities that they could not cope with demonstrations.

FBI agents moved into Athens on orders from Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers in Washington and a five-member committee of the Georgia House of Representatives opened its own investigation of the week's events.

"We are carrying out the orders," a spokesman for the FBI said in Atlanta. "We are making the preliminary investigation. That is all we have to say about it now."

A similar aura of secrecy prevailed about proceedings before the legislative committee in a third-floor closed session in the university library. Newsmen were routed from the upper floor and asked to remain in the lobby.

Dr. O. C. Aderhold, university president who has been under fire from some state segregationist leaders, was closeted with the lawmakers for three hours. When he departed, Aderhold refused comment.

A source close to the committee said one phase of its activities would be to inquire into the activities of two deans, Joseph Williams and William Tate, since Boothe ordered the Negroes admitted last Friday.

Williams and Tate have been praised and criticized for their welcome to the Negroes when they entered school Wednesday morning. Among their activities was the taking up of identification cards of students engaging in minor demonstrations prior to the riot.

The urgency of the integration situation in this fountainhead of segregation caused Vandiver to cancel plans he and his wife, Betty, made several months ago to attend the inauguration of President-elect John F. Kennedy next week.

Three of eight Atlanta area Ku Klux Klan members arrested during mob violence on the college campus failed to appear in court at Athens and their $27,000 conduct bonds were forfeited. Five others face hearings Tuesday on more serious charges of carrying firearms.

Judge Olin Price fined one university student $27 on a plea of guilty. The youth, who battled police in the rioting, said he had "learned a lesson." Bonds of six other students were forfeited, charges were dismissed against four and one case was postponed. Sheriff Ralph Grims of Fulton County (Atlanta) canceled special deputy commissions two of the Klansmen carried. The sheriff said he had no knowledge that they belonged to the robe order.

And the governor's sisters-in-law, Mrs. Geneva P. Davis of Baton Rouge, was included on the payroll. She resigned, however, effective November 30 to take a public relations position with Davis' press agent, Ed Reed, also of Baton Rouge.

Besides that, three former legislators are "building inspectors" — J. Mayo Blanchard, Lafayette; Drayton Butcher, Lafayette; and Horace Lynn Jones, DeQuincy.

Davis' piano man, who played for the Davis quartet during the campaign, Eason L. Napier, gets $300 monthly.

While Hightower draws $825 monthly, his assistant director, Edward D. Burke, draws a $600 monthly salary.

In general, Friday's hearings were marked by the kind of Republican-Democratic good feeling that usually prevails in the early days of a new administration — but often disappears in the heat of later party battles over legislation, budgets and the like.

Even the needling of Robert Kennedy by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and other GOP members was fairly gentle. And in the end, they joined the other committee members in approving Kennedy's nomination.

Dirksen stressed he has no doubts about Robert Kennedy's character and that he "put no stock in the nepotism argument" — that is, the argument by some that the president-elect was showing favoritism for a relative in picking his brother for the Cabinet.

But while saying he thought Kennedy would do a top-flight job as administrator of the Justice Department, Dirksen said, "I think the country has always felt the attorney general should be a legal scholar."

"I think you've had considerable legal experience," Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., of the Judiciary Committee told Kennedy at one point, breaking into Dirksen's train of questions.

Sens. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., and John A. Carroll, D-Colo., remarked on the strong parallel they detected between Kennedy's experience and that of William P. Rogers, the Eisenhower administration's attorney general. Both Kennedy and Rogers formerly served as counsel of the Senate investigations subcommittee.

In discussing his aims as attorney general, the government's chief law enforcement officer, Kennedy said the infiltration of hoodlums into all kinds of businesses and labor unions is one of the nation's major problems.

He told the committee he already has discussed his views with FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover and others in the Justice Department, adding: "I think we have worked out arrangements by which we can attack organized crime, working together."

It might be a year before he drafts proposed new legislation to help in the anti-crime drive, Kennedy said.

On another tack, Kennedy said he plans to enforce the antitrust laws with vigor. And he said he would try to see to it that defendants without financial means get their due in the federal courts.

Democrat Carroll questioned Kennedy about his attitude toward politics in the job of attorney general. Kennedy was his brother's campaign manager in the recent presidential election.

Mystery Space Object Detected

Russian missile tracking ships had been spotted moving into the area of the Soviet testing range.

Russia has used this range twice. It fired one multi-stage rocket into the zone a year ago this month, and another one last July. In both cases it said the rockets, with huge power, were designed to further the Russian space program.

The United States confirmed that both shots had landed. The missile-tracking ships were identified as the Sibir, Chukotka and Sakhalin.

When spotted by U. S. Naval patrol planes, they were heading toward the range area which is 1,000 miles southwest of Oahu, Hawaii. The Navy said at the time that if they continued their present course they should be there by Saturday.

If what the Alaskan radar station saw Friday night was indeed a rocket fired into the area, the ships apparently were in position to attempt to recover the nose cone.

In both of the previous Russian shots, the Soviets tipped their hand by warning all shipping to stay clear. No such announcement was made this time.

Soviet missile tracking ships also were deployed in the Pacific and North Atlantic last September to coincide with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United Nations. This led to speculation that the Russians were going to try a space spectacular to coincide with his arrival.

No shot came off, and there have been unconfirmed reports that the rocket intended for the shot blew up on its launching pad.

The Russians habitually do not announce a missile shot until it is successful. Then the announcement is made by the Tass news agency and Moscow radio.

This is the first time the United States has publicly announced it had spotted a Russian missile as it was being launched.

Appeal Granted To Commission In Rate Spat

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Dist. Judge Coleman Lindsey granted an appeal to the State Supreme Court by the Louisiana Public Service commission in a rate spat with Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co.

The court made the appeal reversible Jan. 20.

Judge Lindsey granted the appeal Thursday.

For several years, the three-man commission and Southern Bell have struggled over phone rates.

Judge Lindsey last month permanently enjoined the commission from enforcing an order which would have required Southern Bell to pay refunds to connecting telephone companies.

On Aug. 8, the commission had ordered Southern Bell to refund to independent companies a portion of the charges for calls between Sept. 1, 1956, and May 5, 1960.

The commission had attempted to make Southern Bell make refunds to the independents similar to the refunds it made to its own customers. Southern Bell also had been ordered to reduce the rates for local pay station calls from 10 cents to 5 cents.

ground that it was necessary to protect the Negroes and other students.

Notified of the decision by The Associated Press, the girl said she was "very pleased and all set to go back to the University of Georgia." She said she and Holmes were "quite hopeful that there will not be another demonstration like Wednesday night's."

She said all she had to do before returning to the school was pack an overnight bag.

"We'll have to confer with our attorneys before any decision is made," she said when asked if they would be in class Saturday.

At Atlanta, Gov. Ernest Vandiver said that law enforcement officers of great experience describe the situation at the university as a "hinder-box condition" and that Bootle "took action without regard to the consequences."

But Vandiver said that if a further breach of the peace occurred at the university which Athens officials can't handle, he would make available "such forces as are needed."

Bootle noted in his sweeping order that lawyers attending the two-hour hearing in chambers reported Athens police were confident "in the case of normal demonstrations."

The jurist said the state's attorneys advised him in the closed-door conference before issuance of the decree that Vandiver would send state police to Athens "to protect lives and property" if notified by local authorities that they could not cope with demonstrations.

FBI agents moved into Athens on orders from Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers in Washington and a five-member committee of the Georgia House of Representatives opened its own investigation of the week's events.

"We are carrying out the orders," a spokesman for the FBI said in Atlanta. "We are making the preliminary investigation. That is all we have to say about it now."

A similar aura of secrecy prevailed about proceedings before the legislative committee in a third-floor closed session in the university library. Newsmen were routed from the upper floor and asked to remain in the lobby.

Dr. O. C. Aderhold, university president who has been under fire from some state segregationist leaders, was closeted with the lawmakers for three hours. When he departed, Aderhold refused comment.

A source close to the committee said one phase of its activities would be to inquire into the activities of two deans, Joseph Williams and William Tate, since Bootle ordered the Negroes admitted last Friday.

Williams and Tate have been praised and criticized for their welcome to the Negroes when they entered school Wednesday morning. Among their activities was the taking up of identification cards of students engaging in minor demonstrations prior to the riot.

The urgency of the integration situation in this fountainhead of segregation caused Vandiver to cancel plans he and his wife, Betty, made several months ago to attend the inauguration of President-elect John F. Kennedy next week.

Three of eight Atlanta area Ku Klux Klansmen arrested during mob violence on the college campus failed to appear in court at Athens and their $27 disorderly conduct bonds were forfeited. Five others face hearings Tuesday on more serious charges of carrying firearms.

Judge Olin Price fined one university student $27 on a plea of guilty. The youth, who battled police in the rioting, said he had "learned a lesson." Bonds of six other students were forfeited, charges were dismissed against four and one case was postponed.

Sheriff Ralph Grims of Fulton County (Atlanta) canceled special deputy commissions two of the Klansmen carried. The sheriff said he had no knowledge that they belonged to the robbed order.

are receiving state salaries as "inspectors" — Mrs. Sylvia Ann Harris, wife of Sen. Wendell Harris of Baton Rouge, and Mrs. Marion C. Boozman, wife of Rep. Curtis Boozman, Natchitoches.

In addition, a relative of Rep. Peter Murtes of New Orleans, William J. Murtes, is drawing $300 monthly. Mrs. Harris gets $300 too while Mrs. Boozman draws only $250.

And the governor's sisters-in-law, Mrs. Geneva P. Davis of Baton Rouge, was included on the payroll. She resigned, however, effective November 30 to take a public relations position with Davis' press agent, Ed Reed, also of Baton Rouge.

Paid by the state, Reed draws $600 monthly while Mrs. Davis receives a $500 salary from the Reed organization.

Besides that, three former legislators are "building inspectors" — J. Mayo Blanchet, Lafayette, Drayton Butcher, Lafayette, and Horace Lynn Jones, DeQuincy.

Davis' piano man, who played for the Davis quartet during the campaign, Eason L. Napier, gets $300 monthly.

While Hightower draws $825 monthly, his assistant director, Edward D. Burke, draws a $600 monthly salary.

Under the law, the contractors board, which was established under the late Earl K. Long, supervises the state's issuing of licenses to contractors.

All employees of the board are paid directly from fees that the state receives from licenses. The board officers formerly were located in the capitol, but now are located in a Baton Rouge hotel.

At present a move is underfoot to put the board employees under Civil Service.

Tidelands Push Due By Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Louisiana members of Congress plan to push in this session of Congress for legislation which would extend Louisiana's off-shore lands from 3 miles to 10.5 miles.

This matter, Sen. Russell B. Long, -La., said Friday, will require "all the ingenuity, persuasiveness and hard work we members of the Louisiana congressional delegation can produce."

Long said other legislation of vital interest to Louisiana will include that dealing with sugar quotas, shrimp imports, military installation placement and the oil depletion allowance.

He said he hopes the new administration can be persuaded to review the recent closing of Ft. Polk and Chennault Air Force Base, Lake Charles, La.

In general, Friday's hearings were marked by the kind of Republican-Democratic good feeling that usually prevails in the early days of a new administration — but often disappears in the heat of later party battles over legislation, budgets and the like.

Even the needling of Robert Kennedy by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and other GOP members was fairly gentle. And in the end, they joined the other committeemen in approving Kennedy's nomination.

Dirksen stressed he has no doubts about Robert Kennedy's character and that he "put no stock in the nepotism argument" — that is, the argument by some that the president-elect was showing favoritism for a relative in picking his brother for the Cabinet.

But while saying he thought Kennedy would do a top-flight job as administrator of the Justice Department, Dirksen said, "I think the country has always felt the attorney general should be a legal scholar."

"I think you've had considerable legal experience," Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., of the Judiciary Committee told Kennedy at one point, breaking into Dirksen's train of questions.

Sens. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., and John A. Carroll, D-Colo., remarked on the strong parallel they detected between Kennedy's experience and that of William P. Rogers, the Eisenhower administration's attorney general. Both Kennedy and Rogers formerly served as counsels of the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

In discussing his aims as attorney general, the government's chief law enforcement officer, Kennedy said the infiltration of hoodlums into all kinds of businesses and labor unions is one of the nation's major problems.

He told the committee he already had discussed his views with FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover and others in the Justice Department, adding: "I think we have worked out arrangements by which we can attack organized crime, working together."

It might be a year before he drafts proposed new legislation to help in the anti-crime drive, Kennedy said.

On another tack, Kennedy said he plans to enforce the antitrust laws with vigor. And he said he would try to see to it that defendants without financial means get their due in the federal courts.

Democrat Carroll questioned Kennedy about his attitude toward politics in the job of attorney general. Kennedy was his brother's campaign manager in the recent presidential election.

"I don't think it—politics—can play any role, directly or indirectly, in decisions," Kennedy replied.

Mystery Space Object Detected

Russian missile tracking ships had been spotted moving into the area of the Soviet testing range.

Russia has used this range twice. It fired one multi-stage rocket into the zone a year ago this month, and another one last July. In both cases it said the rockets, with huge power, were designed to further the Russian space program.

The United States confirmed that both shots had landed.

The missile-tracking ships were identified as the Sibir, Chukotka and Sakhalin.

When spotted by U. S. Naval patrol planes, they were heading toward the range area which is 1,050 miles southwest of Oahu, Hawaii. The Navy said at the time that if they continued their present course they should be there by Saturday.

If what the Alaskan radar station saw Friday night was indeed a rocket fired into the area, the ships apparently were in position to attempt to recover the nose cone.

In both of the previous Russian shots, the Soviets tipped their hand by warning all shipping to stay clear. No such announcement was made this time.

Soviet missile tracking ships also were deployed in the Pacific and North Atlantic last September to coincide with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United Nations. This led to speculation that the Russians were going to try a space spectacular to coincide with his arrival.

No shot came off, and there have been unconfirmed reports that the rocket intended for the shot blew up on its launching pad.

The Russians habitually do not announce a missile shot until it is successful. Then the announcement is made by the Tass news agency and Moscow radio.

This is the first time the United States has publicly announced it had spotted a Russian missile as it was being launched.

For both trips totaling 1,242 miles the Hustler averaged 1,061-808 miles per hour. The Air Force said this beat:

1. The no-payload mark of 596-47 miles per hour claimed by a Soviet TU104 in April 1960.
2. The 1,000-kilogram-payload record claimed by the Russians with the same TU104.

Bids Expected

Next Week On

Street Equipment

West Monroe will probably let a bid next week for some street machinery and advertise for bids on the proposed addition to City Hall, officials said yesterday.

Bids have been advertised for a mechanical tamper machine and a 165 to 175 gallon tar pot to be used in keeping streets repaired. This action was approved at this week's council meeting.

Mayor J. Allan Norris said that the bids will probably be turned into his office and council members will come by to study them, and the low bidder given the contract for the equipment. He is to travel to Baton Rouge soon to inquire about the purchase of an army surplus street roller for the city, but refused to reveal his date of departure.

Bueford Jacks, the architect hired by the city to draw up plans for the proposed 24 by 30 foot addition to City Hall, said that these drawings and specifications should be ready for the City early next week.

With these specifications submitted, the city will be able to advertise for bids on the construction and get started with the work. Jacks said that plans call for a large office, a small office, a storage room and a corridor to be built onto the south side of City Hall, with brick walled interior and the original building's buff brick exterior.

West Monroe Chamber of Commerce is planning a busy schedule next week with three meetings planned Wednesday.

Chamber Manager Eugene Smith said that the Highway and Street committee will meet at 10 a.m. Wednesday with plans to call on the City for action in getting signal lights installed at various points in town where needed.

Later in the day Wednesday, the map committee will meet at 2:30 p.m. to lay plans for a new, improved and up-to-date map of the City and to employ a firm to make the maps.

Bids Expected

Next Week On

Street Equipment

West Monroe will probably let a bid next week for some street machinery and advertise for bids on the proposed addition to City Hall, officials said yesterday.

Bids have been advertised for a mechanical tamper machine and a 165 to 175 gallon tar pot to be used in keeping streets repaired. This action was approved at this week's council meeting.

Mayor J. Allan Norris said that the bids will probably be turned into his office and council members will come by to study them, and the low bidder given the contract for the equipment. He is to travel to Baton Rouge soon to inquire about the purchase of an army surplus street roller for the city, but refused to reveal his date of departure.

Buford Jacka, the architect hired by the city to draw up plans for the proposed 24 by 30 foot addition to City Hall, said that these drawings and specifications should be ready for the City early next week.

With these specifications submitted, the city will be able to advertise for bids on the construction and get started with the work.

Jacka said that plans call for a large office, a small office, a storage room and a corridor to be built onto the south side of City Hall, with brick walled interior and the original building's buff brick exterior.

Phibes left enroute to Bastrop, Oak Grove and Lake Providence Wednesday morning and has not been heard from since, police said.

He was described as being of ruddy complexion, balding gray hair with crippled left leg, wearing a built-up shoe, height 5' 10", weighing 180 pounds.

Chamber Plans

Heavy Schedule

For Next Week

West Monroe Chamber of Commerce is planning a busy schedule next week with three meetings planned Wednesday.

Chamber Manager Eugene Smith said that the Highway and Street committee will meet at 10 a.m. Wednesday with plans to call on the City for action in getting signal lights installed at various points in town where needed.

Later in the day Wednesday, the map committee will meet at 2:30 p.m. to lay plans for a new, improved and up-to-date map of the City and to employ a firm to make the maps.

A meeting of the Board of Directors at 5 p.m. Wednesday will hear a report from the nominating committee concerning the 10 nominees to the Board of Directors for the coming year. Five of the 10 will be elected to serve, and will be installed at the Chamber's annual banquet later in the year.

Smith said the board will also have as guest speaker Donn Kurtz, from the United Givers' offices. He will give the members a report on the UG drive this past year.

Youth Corps Dangers

The underdeveloped countries of the world have been the subject of much talk and expense over the past few years. Now, President-elect Kennedy wants to add the human touch with a "Youth Peace Corps."

The general theme of those favoring aid is if we don't set up these countries as self-governing nation, the communists will take them over as satellites. This places the United States in the rather difficult position of having to budget great sums of money to win rather doubtful independent allies while the Soviet Union spends little or no money on aid but secures dedicated Marxist colonies.

During his campaign, President-elect Kennedy struck a responsive chord among young people with proposals of a corps of young people for foreign service in the underdeveloped countries.

Advocates of the plan assert the enlistment of young Americans to labor at the grass roots of foreign aid would add something new and vital to the technical assistance program.

Most Americans now serving with the International Cooperation Administration at foreign posts are middle-aged or older. Many are experienced specialists on leave from government jobs or retired college professors. They work chiefly at the planning level and deal mostly with high-ranking officials of the countries receiving assistance.

Located away down in the fine print of the proposals for such a Youth Peace Corps is the admission of the big flaw in the whole philosophy of foreign aid. For all its benefits to recipient countries aid from the United States has not sold America to the natives of the assisted countries.

So now, rather than admit our form of government based on freedom has nothing to offer other than the rewards from the sweat of the brow, the advocates want young people to wage a "door-to-door" campaign to make democracy more attractive.

It has been proposed this modern-day young people's crusade serve for three years and receive Army private's pay of $80 per month.

Along with the Youth Peace Corps, which the proposals says will be drawn from college graduates, there has been suggested a Youth Conservation Corps manned by boys recently out of high school but who are not fully prepared to take their places in the nation's work force.

Socialized youth programs have been tried many times before in many different countries. Correctly managed, they can only point the way to a fully socialized economy.

This did not happen in the United States in the case of the Civilian Conservation Corps because that organization stopped operating when the country was mobilized for war.

But the formation of youth corps for any purpose during peacetime would result in greater federal intervention in the case of employment for the young people completing their tours of service. In fact, how long would it be before federal concern over youth began to lock horns with the Social Security programs for older persons? The Eisenhower administration questioned the need for a similar program offered in 1959 in regards to youth conservation.

As for the Youth Peace Corps, it is loaded with dangers. In particular, if such a corps is sent into an underdeveloped country to "sell Americanism," then some sort of indoctrination is indicated.

Will these young people be allowed to express freely their opinions about the faults and virtues of their "home office," the United States? If so, they cannot be effective salesmen.

If not, they will make up a force of Kennedy supporters for years to come.

Reaching For Stars

People who go through life discouraged because they are not the best in the world may owe their disappointment to those who say anyone can be president if he tries hard enough or that he can be a champion at anything if he is determined enough. Most people can't do those things but they can be good enough to live satisfactory lives. It's all right to hitch your wagon to a star as long as you can keep your feet on the ground at the same time.

A dramatic illustration of the fact that champions have to be born as well as made is found in the person of Bobby Fischer, 17-year-old international chess grand master, who won his fourth United States chess championship in New York recently. The Brooklyn boy is considered the finest American chess player since Paul Morphy in 1850.

When he was scarcely 14 years old, Fischer began pushing the veteran international grand masters around. Some of them had devoted 30 years or more to intensive chess study and play. All of them were natural masters to some extent and had reached the top both through natural ability and constant study. Yet a 14-year-old boy who had been playing only two or three years was able to beat them.

At the time he started beating the grand masters, Fischer played barefooted. He wrapped his feet and legs around the chair legs and bit his nails until he drove his opponents to distraction but they were more worried about his playing ability than his antics. Now he looks and acts a little more like the others when he plays but he still beats them.

This doesn't mean that anyone should not try for the top. It does mean that everyone should try for his own personal full measure and that if he can't beat the rest of the world he should accept his abilities as they are, make the best of them and live a successful life.

Mrs. Kennedy's Clothes

When Senator John F. Kennedy and Vice-President Richard M. Nixon were running for the presidency, Mrs. Kennedy came out with an assertion that she spent less on her clothes than was spent by Mrs. Nixon.

This gratuitous remark and the actual cost of their clothes really had nothing to do with the question of who should be elected president, but much ado was made of it. Nobody ever made an investigation into the amount spent by either of the ladies.

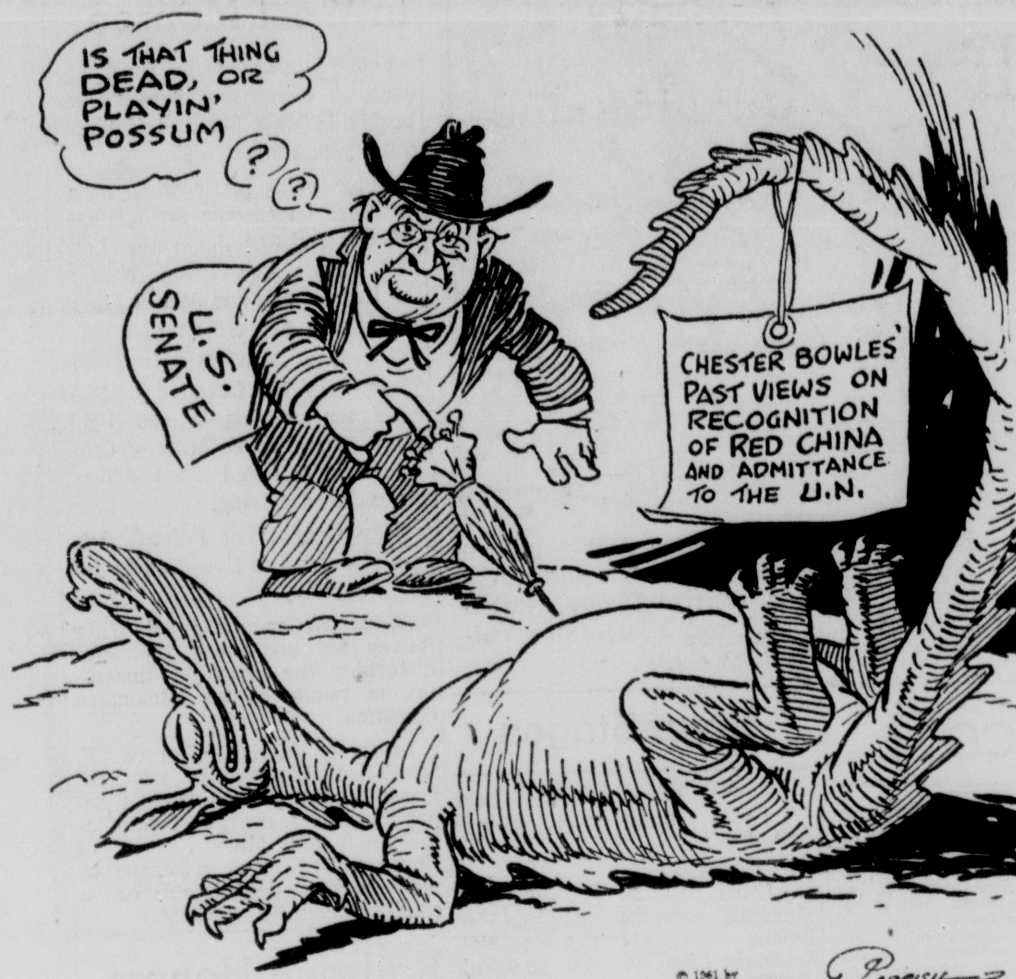

Now, however, the New York Couture Group, Inc., which annually asks some 2,500 style experts and society leaders to pick the world's 12 best-dressed women, said the first lady-elect went over the top of the list by "an overwhelming majority."

Off-hand and not being expert in these matters, we'd say that two factors weigh most heavily in the selection of the best dressed women, or men, for that matter. The first factor is the prominence of the individual and the second is how much she spends in conformity with the standards set by the style experts — not the amount she spends indiscriminately. How many unknowns have we ever had who made the best-dressed list, not matter how much they spent?

Frankly, we were more pleased with the group's comment on President-elect Kennedy's disregard for style mandates. In that respect, as well as others, he hasn't been poured into a standard mold.

Book Deals In Wickedness

Those Who Know All About Women Must Have Wonderful Time Staying Up At Night, Sleeping In Daytime

Apart from reading Cleveland Amory's book on the decay of American society, I read the learned sociological study of Lee Mortimer on "Women Confidential," a subject on which no one knows too much. I envy those men who know the ins and outs of everybody's lives and the goings and comings of various celebrities. They must have a wonderful time staying up all night and sleeping all day.

Wickedness is not my special line, although I often deal with politicians. But I am always astonished at how many decent people there are in the world who mind their own business. Now this fellow, Lee Mortimer, is a very fine person and if I were in need, I can imagine no one who would come to my rescue sooner, but why does he wallow in sheer wickedness as he does in this book?

Well, there is no telling about human beings. The other day, I read somewhere that I was mean, which really I cannot be. It is true that I am a suspicious person but then, that is an occupational disease. Old reporters were trained to be suspicious. They always thought of the old man who gave little girls candy. They looked upon all politicians as such. They saw a reformer and wondered what he got out of his reform. They dug in all the muck of their day. They toppled great reputations with small tattlet. They were the guardians of the people, the tribunes in the forum. It was a glorious profession and the cynical feared lest their sentimentalism be exposed.

Then came the day of giving everyone the benefit of the doubt. Therefore, little was dug up but as one editor said, "It will be a great story when we get it." One politely sits and waits for the truth to become available. And if the truth never becomes available, what then?

It is, of course, a question and I think Cleveland Amory answers it quite fully in his enormous tome "Who Killed Society?" which is so truly dead.

And yet, let me tell you of a wonderful experience I had on New Year's Eve. I went to the house of a great lady who belonged when it was something to belong. And there was gathered a fine company of quietly distinguished persons. And when the moment of midnight approached, the lights were put out, a window was opened; the guests were silent except for the playing of a piano in eloquent beauty. The old year flew out; the new year flew in. The window was shut; the lights went on. We bade each other a happy New Year with whatever affection. And we were jolly but not noisy.

It was a novel ceremony which my hostess had known since she was a little girl many decades ago when her mother pursued it.

There is much peace and beauty in this world in many places that are not publicized. In fact, this is the real strength of our country which is strong despite all the trickeries of politicians and conniving persons who fight not for the whole of what we are but for some little part of it which they fill. I was thinking of that the other day when I listened to a recording of Dimitri Tiomkin's music for John Wayne's picture, "The Alamo." I listened to a recording of Dimmy's music and realized how this country can sear an alien's soul, so that he becomes a part of us. It is authentic American music; not this horrible beat thing called rock-in-roll, but music that makes you want to sing as we sung the tunes of Stephen Foster or of Gus Edwards.

A European journalist writes to me, asking why President-elect Kennedy appoints so many school teachers to big jobs. I had not noticed that but if it is so, it might be because what the man knows he got from teachers whom he respects. The Europeans speak of an intellectual as though he were really something special. The woods are full of intellectuals and even intelligent folks here. I know some simple gals, friends of mine, who rattle away in three or four languages, have read everything, been everywhere, married in this or that and wash their own dishes. This is a country without real class distinctions, although a few that Amory writes about or Mortimer ridicules would prefer to be what never can be.

Javits Gun Man

Hires Out To Rockefeller To Try To Kill Senator Goldwater

WASHINGTON, D. C. — In television talk of the Wild West, Senator Jacob Javits is trying to kill the "hired gun" of Governor Nelson Rockefeller to kill Senator Barry Goldwater.

These high-ranking Republican politicians, and others, will be seen on a continuing and richly-sponsored program from now on until one or more of them drop dead, politically speaking.

In the first episode Javits went for his rod as soon as Congress convened — but missed his man. He tried to remove Goldwater from the important party post of chairman of the Senate Campaign Committee. Javits who is up for reelection in 1962, indicated that he was acting for himself and on the principle that the GOP must "Go Modern" to win. But around the Hill, particularly in the Old Guard precincts, everybody claims to know whose work Javits is doing. He is gun-slashing the glint-eyed Governor and the long-distance runner, who else (as the campaign buttons last summer read) But Nelson! However, when Javits failed to bring the man down, he is said to have received a scathing bawl — out by the boss.

Well, the Old Guardsmen have seen their good men shot at before, and they reacted in kind. Although the next presidential election is 40-some months away, the fighting among Republicans has already begun. Despite Rockefeller's alleged disavowal, and his fury at Javits, Goldwater turned his own blazing guns on the Governor himself rather than on the trigger man.

If anybody really wanted to find out, it could be proved that the Old Guard had started collecting ammunition for the family shootout as soon as the last election was lost. Goldwater's pistols began spitting out the bullets that were molded with the expressed hope that they would lodge at last in Rockefeller's much-too-liberal heart.

Goldwater replied to Javits by declaring Modern Republicanism to be the worst kind. In six elections since 1948, Upstate New York went better than 60 per cent Republican — until this last time. In 1960, with Rockefeller supposed to carry his State for Nixon, the State had a losing margin twice as great as any other Eastern industrial State.

The GOP gained 29 House seats in '60, losing only 8 — and 3 of these were in Rockefeller's State. At the grassroots, the GOP captured 10 State legislatures, losing only 2. Nine of the 10 wins were west of the Ohio River — out where old-fashioned Republicanism still flourishes.

These figures made up the fusillade which Rockefeller cut loose at Rockefeller. There is a good deal more of the same in the GOP ammunition chest. It tells much about the true but hidden conservatism of the American electorate.

While Rockefeller's Modern Republican regime was losing ground in the State House, the House of Representatives, as well as failing to win for the Electoral College, things were much different in Old Guard territory. Republicans gained 43 seats in the Indiana State House, 23 seats in Ohio, 19 in Iowa, 22 in Montana, 11 in California, 12 in Missouri, 10 in Wisconsin and 14 in South Dakota.

Question — If it's a choice between Goldwater politics and Rockefeller politics, which of the two showed winning ways in 1960? The Old Guard has the facts on its side this time, and is nursing a deep suspicion in another question. Did Rockefeller really want his party to win last year?

Not very long before the Republican Convention, Rockefeller made a furious attack upon the Eisenhower Administration. The Convention was gathering when Rockefeller turned his attack upon Nixon, causing the eventual nominee to make a humiliating trip to the Governor's home to eat a dish of crow. Having badly injured the two pillars of the party, Rockefeller conducted a campaign which the New York Post aptly said did little but show the difference between "motion and emotion."

The unspoken charge by the Old Guard against Rockefeller is that he's a rule-or-ruin man. And that's what the shooting is all about.

Agency Scuffle

Congress Fight Seen On Consolidating Transportation Groups

A major legislative battle in Congress, which will cut party lines and almost certainly will become a bitter one before it is over, will develop during the 87th Congress sessions.

The fight may not materialize until 1962, but could reach a climax late in the present session which has just convened. Timing will depend on the recommendations of President-elect John F. Kennedy and actions of several Congressional committees involved.

Involved will be proposals to either consolidate all of the federal agencies dealing with regulation of the various transportation industries of the nation under a single Cabinet-level Federal Transportation Commission or make major changes in the operations of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Civil Aeronautics Board and the Federal Maritime Board.

James M. Landis, one time New Deal member of both the Security and Exchange Commission and later the CAB, who has been named White House adviser on federal regulatory agencies by Kennedy, has already recommended to the new President that a number of changes in the activities and procedures of the three agencies be made.

Landis, however, did not go nearly so far in his recommendations as the task force of the Senate Interstate Commerce committee which was named some two years ago by Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, Dem. of Washington, to make a comprehensive study of the whole situation.

In its 900-page report just filed with the committee, the task force directed by John F. Doyle, a retired air force major general, proposed that the ICC, CAB AND Maritime Board all be completely abolished and the over-all transportation regulatory commission be established.

This, in itself, would create a terrific fight in Congress, where each of the transportation industries, jealous of their own rights, have many strong friends.

But the Doyle task force added more fuel to the fire by suggesting several other legislative proposals which have little or no relationship to the normal rate and route approval activities of the present three bodies.

nance would be taken off the taxpayers' backs.

There is no question but what the shipping and airline industries using the domestic facilities will fight this proposal tooth-and-nail. In the package deal, however, there is always a chance that I could get through.

The task force, recognizing the losses that railroads are suffering from operation of passenger trains, both for commuters and for long-hauls, has suggested several solutions requiring legislation.

Most controversial, of course, is its suggestion that the federal government establish a corporation which could eventually take over the passenger operations of the railroads. An alternative insofar as commuters are concerned is the proposal to in effect subsidize through cheap government loans for improvement of equipment and other properties needed for the continued operation of the commuter trains.

Daily Meditation

There is none other commandment greater than these.

— Mark 12:31.

When Christ was called upon to sum up the commandments of God in a nutshell, He said to the scribbles: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment. And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these." Does not such a code of attitude and conduct cover completely our relationship to both God and man?

Merciful Father, help us in daily struggles to keep ever before us the rules and ideals of living given us by Christ. In His name we ask. Amen.

'MISS STOCK SHOW'

Beauty Pageant Slated In Delhi

DELHI (Special) — The annual Miss Stock Show beauty pageant will be held Feb. 25 in the Delhi High school auditorium.

Deadline for entries is Feb. 1, according to an announcement Friday by the Delhi Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor.

The event is held in conjunction with the annual Northeast Louisiana Livestock Show here.

Officers May Have Break In Burglary

WINNFIELD (Special) — Sheriff's officers pinned their hopes on the state crime laboratory to break the parish's record safe burglary of Wednesday night and were holding three white suspects there Thursday afternoon, hours after the burglary was discovered.

Winn Parish Sheriff Sanford Jordan and his chief deputy J. J. Crippen left at noon to carry evidence in the case for analysis at the crime lab in Baton Rouge.

Jordan did not divulge the names of the suspects but indicated a break in the case possibly had been found.

He said the three young men were arrested in the vicinity of Winnfield about 5:30 Thursday afternoon.

Garbage men discovered Troy Smith's Supermarket had been burglarized about 6:30 a.m. Thursday.

A 250-pound safe containing $10,634 had been hauled away, Jordan said Thursday morning before he left for Baton Rouge that neither the safe nor the money had been found.

He said that none of the suspects had implicated themselves in the burglary but they were still under investigation.

Scraps of evidence were gathered for analysis at the crime lab.

Jordan said Friday morning that identification of the trio would be made only if evidence warranted filing a burglary charge against them.

He did not indicate when such a charge might be filed but circumstances pointed toward the fact that lab reports would play a big part in the case.

Father Gives Police Clue To Slayer Of Girl

SOUTH HAVEN, Mich. (UPI) — The distraught father of Geraldine Williams Friday gave state police their best clue to the rape-slayer of his 15 year old daughter who was dragged into a car as she waited on a lonely road for a school bus.

Ward Williams, 58, told officers an old, black car had driven past the Williams' rural home "three or four days straight" and that he was sure its driver was the man who had assaulted his daughter and then crushed her head with a heavy rock.

"I would know that car for sure," Williams said, "but I'm not positive I'd recognize the man."

He added grimly that if police "don't get the man, I will."

More than 25 state police were searching for a car fitting the description given by Williams. They also were checking known sex offenders in the area, and men and boys who had been absent from work or school on Wednesday.

Geraldine's body, her underpants torn away, was found Thursday night in the cellar of an abandoned farm house near this Lake Michigan resort community.

Freighter With 9 Aboard Sinks

GOTEBERG, Sweden (UPI) — A German freighter disappeared and apparently sank in the North Sea off Sweden early Friday, leaving behind no trace of the nine crew members aboard.

Officials said 13 ships answered a distress call from the 427-ton freighter Muensterland. But by the time they converged on the scene, all they found was an oil slick, 10 empty lifeboats, a capsized raft and some wreckage believed to have come from the missing vessel.

There was no sign of any of the crew—which included one woman.

Officials said it was almost certain the Muensterland had sunk. But experts said they had no idea why, since the sea was relatively calm at the time.

Cubans Fire Verbally At Guantanamo

HAVANA (AP) — Cuban propaganda organs loosed a new attack on the U.S. Guantanamo Bay naval base Friday as Prime Minister Fidel Castro's supporters rallied here to celebrate "victory over Yankee aggression."

All three Havana morning papers — the semi-official Revolution, El Mundo, and the Communist organ Hoy — accused U.S. naval officers in Guantanamo of torturing a Cuban worker, Manuel Prieto Gomez, 39, at the base to force him to confess he was a spy for Castro.

The accusation could form the basis for a new Cuban demand that the United States abandon its largest and oldest naval base in Latin America.

In Washington, the U.S. Navy denied the accusation.

A spokesman for the Navy said Gomez had been arrested last Friday when he tried to leave the base with "payroll records which he was unauthorized to have."

Gomez was held on the base, the Navy continued, for five days. "While being held on the base," he was visited by his family," the spokesman said. "Gomez was not struck or otherwise bodily harmed while held."

The spokesman said Gomez feigned illness last Wednesday and was released from the base in the company of two other Cubans.

But a major slip in the government-controlled newspapers' presentation of the story indicated to many here the case was manufactured to increase anti-American hostility and focus it on the naval base in eastern Cuba.

Accounts referred variously to one American commandant as Fennor or Fennol, who Prieto said had questioned him, threatened him with death, beat him and finally dismissed him from his job at the base.

This was an obvious reference to Rear Adm. Frank W. Fennor, who suffered a heart attack after commanding the base for two years and was flown to the United States last Oct. 25. He has not returned.

But Prieto's statement, as published in the press, indicated he was claiming the torture occurred last weekend. No attempt was made to reconcile this with Fennor's departure long before.

Johnson already has predicted that the new administration will push "a very vigorous and accelerated space program." The Kennedy administration is expected to decide late this month whether any changes will be made in U.S. space policies.

RETIRING CHIEF SAYS

U.S. Is Gaining In Space Race

CHICAGO (UPI) — "I. Keith Glennan, outgoing chief of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said Friday that the United States was ahead of the Soviet Union in work on power to lift a manned missile into space, but this nation was rapidly gaining on the Russian lead."

He speculated that the Russians may already have attempted a manned flight, but did not elaborate.

"We are closing that gap rather rapidly now," he told newsmen at the opening of a scientific exhibit.

Glennan told educators at a luncheon session later that he is "convinced some day we will land a man on the moon and bring him back." But he said such a program will cost between $15 billion and $35 billion and "it's not going to be accomplished in a few years."

Space exploration, he said, will give man a chance to "learn perhaps something of the origin of the universe, perhaps even of life itself."

Glennan noted that Russia launched a missile carrying a dog into orbit in November, 1957, and said "it would be my guess they had been working at least two years" prior to that in developing the space vehicle. "They have had available to them thrust that we have not had," he said.

Any man-in-space beyond the present Mercury program, he said, "will depend on greater environmental knowledge and substantially increased thrust."

Glennan said he had been puzzled by the fact that the Russians had not attempted a man-in-space launching. "Perhaps they have," he added.

Glennan, whose agency is responsible for civilian aeronautics and space research, will leave office Jan. 20.

The exhibit, the first major U.S. display centered on space exploration, was opened at the Museum of Science and Industry.

Soviet Charges Against Belgium

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Western powers rejected Friday as groundless the latest Soviet charges that Belgium had committed aggression in the Congo, and said Moscow was only showing contempt for the United Nations by airing them in the Security Council.

The Western attitude appeared to doom to defeat a move by Asian-African nations to have the council find Belgium guilty of violating its trusteeship over Ruanda-Urundi, a neighbor of the Congo.

Ceylon, Liberia and the United Arab Republic submitted a resolution charging that Belgium violated its trusteeship agreement by permitting soldiers of Col. Joseph Mobutu to use Ruanda-Urundi as a base for a Jan. 1 attack in the Congo's Kivu Province against soldiers loyal to deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Coastal Storms

Result In Fatal Sea Disasters

By United Press International
Gale force winds and heavy seas brought disaster to ships off both the Pacific and Atlantic coasts Friday.

In the mouth of the Columbia River off Astoria, Ore., a 30-foot crab boat was lost along with three Coast Guard vessels which tried to save her from a coastal gale. One man was known to be drowned and six men — four of them Coast Guardsmen — were missing and feared dead.

Across the nation, a 400-foot barge with eight men aboard went down in heavy seas 10 miles off shore from Palm Beach, Fla. The barge broke its towline and split apart before sinking in heavy seas. Only one crew member was reported rescued from the ocean.

In between the coastal storms, a January heat wave broke records in the Midwest.

The temperature set a Jan. 13 record when it hit 52 degrees at Des Moines, Iowa. Temperatures were in the 50's in Michigan and in the 60's in Missouri and Kansas.

The early spring was not expected to last long in much of the Midlands. Des Moines' temperature began to drop almost as soon as the record was achieved, because of a cold front pushing out of the north.

"Information" ... Where am I?

Voice Of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Debbie Reynolds would like to play the role of Mary Pickford if the one-time "America's Sweetheart" will release the screen rights to her life story. Off-Broadway fans may get an unexpected thrill when "The Cage" opens. Joe Colgan, one of the actors, is being touted as a double for Paul Newman. . . . Ralph Watkins and Artie Shaw may make news. They've been conferring about the possibility of the long-absent maestro returning - with a big band to Basin Street East. . . . Parisians expect the next Dior collection to show plenty of leg. Marc Bohan, successor to Yves St. Laurent, is married to a lovely game, and she's urging him to promote fashions that will display them. Of course this would mean a bonanza to well-ladies with pretty knees - as well as to the boys who merely like to observe. . . . Joan Fontaine, who is scheduled to play hostess for the "Family Classics" TV program titled "A Touch of Oil" certainly has a lot in common with the show's director. They were both married to Collier Young. . . .

Laos Troops Advancing On Rebel City

Broadway guessing game. One of the screen's handsomest actors and his actress wife are on the verge of a page one split. . . . A famous comedian, who makes many a joke about his fondness for alcohol, was conspicuously stoned at "Wildcat" the other night. . . .

A hot romance is causing excitement on the set of "Wonders of Aladdin" in Tunisia. The heroine is a married lady, and her obvious attraction to an Italian chap on the staff of the slicker is likely to make her husband angry enough to ask for a divorce. . . .

Ah, those interviews that never should have been granted! Have some quotes from Arthur Miller about Marilyn Monroe, which hit print February 17, 1960. "Marrying Marilyn was the greatest thing I ever did. It's done my work a lot of good." "Marilyn understands what I am saying even before I've said it. She's a wonderful girl and a magnificent actress. I only wish people would take more notice of her talent and less of her statistics." . . .

Asked what it was like having a wife as famous as Marilyn, the Pulitzer-prize winning playwright said, "We live 90 per cent the same life as other people. Yes, sometimes when we go out people make silly remarks. But we don't go out much, only occasionally to a theatre. Marilyn and I both like staying at home." . . .

Miller admitted to one fear. "When I'm not writing, I'm worrying about my writing. . . . My worst play will take in the human situation at present." . . .

"Of course, a playwright must ask why about everything. I like to get behind a subject." . . .

Write your own comment. The next First Lady's hair-dressing bills could make history. Her coiffeur, Mr. Kenneth of Lilly Dache, just spent a week in Palm Beach setting and combing Jacqueline Kennedy's tresses for publicity pictures in a variety of costumes. Kenneth's usual rate, when he leaves the salon for a job "on location" is $100 an hour. Add to that his plane fare and other expenses and you simply must be impressed by the cost of chic. . . .

The front-page arrest of alleged gambling gentry at the White Turkey restaurant in Sutton Pl. had an un-nerving effect on the regular, and recognized, clientele - conservative downagers who think all gangsters are characters in movies and on TV. . . .

Former child star Bobby Driscoll lived through a long, unhappy story but the happy ending may be written soon. For the past four years, Bobby was a narcotics addict, but he's "kicked" the habit and has been signed by Harling Productions to star in a film titled "Sunday's Rebel." Of course his rooters in show business are legion. . . .

Employment agencies in the midtown section are crowded with girls who have come here from industrial areas in Michigan and Ohio, where they can't find jobs. They aren't hoping to be actresses, they just want to toil as secretaries and bookkeepers and office clerks. Many of them say that if they succeed in finding work, their parents will migrate to New York. . . . Robert Helpmann would like to revive "Lady in the Dark" in London, and his dream is to persuade Greer Garson to play the role created by Gertrude Lawrence. . . .

Fidel Castro faces a serious brain operation. He's seeking the best doctors to do the job. . . . The recently opened Broadway play, "All the Way Home," which was much better than the critics' notices indicated - and almost folded because of the bad press has revived because of favorable word-of-mouth, and appears to be climbing into the hit class. At any rate, three movie companies are bidding for the film rights. . . .

Intelligence sources, however, said at the rate of progress now being made, a major offensive to oust the leftist rebels from the north-central plain still is at least two weeks away. . . .

These sources said the four U.S.-supplied light planes, armed and flown by Laotians, strafed and rocketed enemy positions for the third day in a row. There was no report on their effectiveness. The targets of the air strikes were said to be pro-Communist artillery positions in the hills 70 miles north of Vientiane, where skirmishing is in progress. . . .

On this front, soldiers from Vientiane are trying to join up with other forces moving south from Luang Prabang, the royal capital 150 miles north of here. They are being blocked around Vang Vieng by leftist Capt. Kong Le and his rebel paratroopers, supported by pro-Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas. . . .

Western military experts said a well-coordinated offensive is essential, because another government defeat could topple Premier Boua Oum's pro-Western regime. . . .

Moscow radio charged the United States had sent military planes to Laos and likened the action to Nazi and Fascist intervention in the Spanish civil war. . . .

The Chinese Communist paper Ta Kung Pao in Hong Kong said by sending the planes, the United States "is fanning the flame of the Laotian war while everybody else is trying to put it out." . . .

THE ALMANAC

Today is Saturday, Jan. 14, the 14th day of the year with 351 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

On this day in history: In 1784, Congress ratified a peace treaty with Great Britain.

In 1878, the Supreme Court ruled that a state law outlawing segregation of the races in railroad travel was unconstitutional.

In 1914, Henry Ford revolutionized the manufacturer of automobiles by inaugurating an assembly line.

In 1940, FBI agents in New York seized 18 members of the so-called "Christian Front" on charges of conspiring to overthrow the government.

In 1943, President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Churchill began a 10-day conference at Casablanca, Morocco, to plan Allied offensives aimed at the unconditional surrender of the Axis powers.

Thought for today: American writer Mark Twain said: "Adam was but human. . . this explains it all. He did not want the apple for the apple's sake, he wanted it only because it was forbidden."

Laos Troops Advancing On Rebel City

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The head of a royal army column advancing for the battle of north-central Laos is three miles south of the key rebel city of Xieng Khouang, a spokesman claimed Friday.

Information Minister Bouavan Norasang also said advance elements of a second column were 13 miles south of Xieng Khouang, eastern gateway to the strategic Plaine des Jarres.

Intelligence sources, however, said at the rate of progress now being made, a major offensive to oust the leftist rebels from the north-central plain still is at least two weeks away.

How To Keep Well

RELIEF FOR ASTHMATICS
Twenty-five years ago a person with severe asthma was given a shot of adrenalin. Within 10 minutes, wheezing and coughing disappeared. In many instances, the exhausted victim fell asleep. On awakening he was able to breathe in comfort. But all too often relief was temporary and the physician had to return again and again for additional injections.

Adrenalin still is given to control wheezing but we now have newer products that are easier to use. Inhaling epinephrine or Isuprel in aerosol mixtures often suppresses an attack quickly and for a long time. Some asthmatics obtain sufficient relief when the bout occurs in the early morning hours to permit falling asleep within a few moments.

These products are administered in hand powered, rubber bulb nebulizers or powder inhalers. Three or four deep inhalations, repeated 15 to 20 minutes later, are enough. Too much and too often will dry the membranes. Lesser bouts may be controlled with tablets containing ephedrine sulfate or drugs such as aminophylline, that dilate the bronchi. Combinations of an antihistamine and a tranquilizer are available.

The chronic asthmatic has profited most from modern remedies. Many wheeze continuously and tend to develop severe attacks at night. The drugs previously mentioned are helpful for the latter but something more is needed to improve their breathing between the severe bouts. It is here the adrenal steroids such as cortisone, prednisone, triamcinolone, or dexamethasone are valuable. Such products offer substantial relief during the day and prevent wheezing at night.

These hormones are potent and should not be used indiscriminately. The dose is tapered off after four or five days of relief and stopped entirely when wheezing fails to recur. But continuous medication is required by some to remain comfortable.

Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on bronchial asthma if stamped self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

No One Injured As Destroyers Crash At Sea

CHARLESTON, S.C. (UPI)—Two Navy destroyers on maneuvers off the North Carolina coast collided Friday in the pre-dawn darkness. Both ships were damaged but all 460 crewmen aboard the two vessels escaped injury.

The collision was one of three sea mishaps reported Friday in the Atlantic and Caribbean.

A barge loaded with sulphur and carrying eight men broke up and sank off Palm Beach, Fla., and the Coast Guard in Miami reported that a Greek tanker, the Kissavos, was slowly sinking off the Windward Island in the Caribbean after being rocked by explosions.

Seven of the eight men involved in the barge incident were reported missing in rough seas. The other, a cook, was picked up by the ship which was towing the barge.

All 40 men aboard the tanker Kissavos were taken aboard the Panamanian motor vessel Sentinel. Four were reported suffering from burns.

The destroyers involved in the collision, which occurred at 4:20 a.m. EST, the Navy said, were the USS Johnston and the USS Keppler, both of the 2,420-ton class.

No details of the collision were available but the fact that the Johnston suffered bow damage indicated that she rammed the Keppler.

Lavon Affair May Topple Ben-Gurion

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—All Israel is talking about the Pinhas Lavon affair. It has grown for six years until today it threatens to destroy Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion's government.

Except for Ben-Gurion's stubbornness, the Lavon affair now might be closed as tightly as the incident that first started the whole thing—a top-secret 1954 security mishap that led Ben-Gurion to replace Lavon as defense minister.

Instead, matters now stand this way between the two antagonists: Lavon, 57, has been cleared of any blame in the mysterious security blunder that brought his removal in 1955. His exoneration came last month when a committee of government ministers decided that Lavon's signature on the misguided military order was a forgery.

Ben-Gurion, 74, has refused to go along with the Israeli Cabinet in accepting Lavon's clearance. Foreign Minister Golda Meir has threatened to resign over Ben-Gurion's stubbornness.

Ben-Gurion wants a new investigation by a body of legal experts. He has threatened otherwise to resign as prime minister and as head of the Mafai, the Social Democratic party that is the mainstay of his government coalition.

Hearing Set On Appeal In Slaying Case

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Supreme Court Clerk Tom Q. Ellis said Friday the high court has set for Feb. 13 a hearing on the appeal of Jon Mattox, 21-year-old Columbus youth convicted of murdering a pretty neighbor.

Ellis said 10 volumes of trial records totaling 1,445 pages have been filed by the defense lawyers, Luther Sims of Columbus, Jesse Stennis of Macon and Malcolm Montgomery of Jackson.

Extensive briefs have also been filed.

Handling the prosecution's case before the high court will be assistant Atty. Gen. Garland Lyell, Dist. Atty. Harvey Buck of West Point and special prosecutor William Burgin of Columbus.

Mattox was convicted of murdering 31-year-old Mrs. Gene Cain Tate with a coat hanger on Jan. 31 last year. The pretty blonde mother of four children was found by her husband, Irwin, a Columbus businessman, after she had been strangled to death in her garage.

Mattox maintained his innocence throughout his trial at Columbus last May. He was convicted and Circuit Judge John D. Greene sentenced him to life imprisonment after the jury failed to recommend the death penalty.

Key witness in the trial was Sarah Grayson of Bay Springs, like Mattox a student at Mississippi State University. She testified Mattox told her he had been intimate with Mrs. Tate over a period of two years, and that she had decided to break off the relationship.

Miss Grayson also testified Mattox once told her he figured a coat hanger was the perfect murder weapon because it left no finger prints.

Four Injured As Car Crashes Into School Bus

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP)—A traffic collision involving two automobiles and a school bus with 20 children aboard injured four persons, one believed seriously.

None of the children was injured, police said.

Officers said a car believed driven by Airman I.C. Samuel O. Sears of the Stopped Air Force Base hit the stopped bus about two miles north of Alexandria.

The car bounced off the bus and hit a car driven by Willard L. Rachal, 35, of Alexandria. Rachal's condition was listed "as at least serious" at an Alexandria hospital. Rachal's car, officers said, had stopped behind the bus.

Sears and two other Negro Air Force men, Airman I.C. Gerald Ladmirault and S.Sgt. Nathaniel Bridges, were taken to the base hospital at England. Sears and Bridges were later removed to the Veterans Administration hospital in Alexandria. Neither was considered seriously injured.

Ladmirault and the bus driver, Robert M. Thomas, were not injured.

Scalding Burns Are Fatal For Noted Author

NEW YORK (AP)—Henry Morton Robinson, 62, author of two best-selling novels including "The Cardinal," died Friday of a scalding he suffered when he fell asleep in a bathtub three weeks ago.

He had been confined to University Hospital with second-degree burns over nearly half of his body since Dec. 23. He fell asleep while bathing at the Columbia University Club.

His home was in Tenafly, N.J., but he used the club as a Manhattan headquarters.

A native of Boston, Robinson taught English at Columbia University during the 1920s. He was an associate editor of Readers Digest from 1935 to 1942, and a senior editor of the magazine from 1942 to 1945.

He leaves a son and two daughters by his first marriage to Gertrude Ludwig. Robinson's second wife, and former Vivian Wyndham, whom he married in 1933, also survives.

How Much Just To Sit Under The Dryer While My Ears Thaw Out?

by Gladys Parker

GAP IN DIAPHRAGM
D. J. writes: Recently I have had to sleep in a sitting position because of a hiatus hernia. I'm 40 and hate to think of following this routine the rest of my life. Can anything be done about it?

REPLY
Consider surgery if the condition is this troublesome. In hiatus hernia, part of the stomach protrudes upward thru an opening in the diaphragm. It slides down when sitting, and up when lying flat, coughing, or straining. The hole can be repaired but it means an operation. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on hiatus hernia.

Spring Hill Five Takes On Tribe

Northeast banks on its home-court advantage — which has been 50 per cent effective this year — and outside shooters when the Indians entertain Spring Hill College at 7:30 on the college court tonight.

Spring Hill's Badgers, 4-5 for the season, knocked off the local Indians, 80-74, at Mobile Dec. 10 and Lenny Fant's Tribe hopes a new setting will tip the scales their way.

Tonight's opponent will be the third Northeast has played both at home and on the road. Northeast opened the season with a 30-point victory over Arkansas A&M in Arkansas but then lost a one-point nod to A&M here two days later.

The home - gym advantage paid off, however, in Northeast's games with Arkansas State, the Arkansas club winning a 77-56 decision at Jonesboro but falling by 26-24 here.

A factor to be considered is that the home game with Arkansas A&M was played on the Ouchita court instead of in the college gym, which wasn't completed at that time. The switch to the college gym has helped boost attendance, both of Northeast students and ordinary fans, in a third game between.

Northeast and Arkansas A&M played on the college floor during the Northeast Tournament, the Indians won a 70-70 verdict. Northeast is 7-4 for the season.

The Tribe's outside shooters, backbone of its offense, were well muffled in Tuesday's 64-37 loss to McNeese here — except for Lanny Johnson. The former Ouchita star was the Tribe's leading scorer with 21 points, 17 more than the nearest Indian. The other Northeast outside men contributed a total of only 7 points.

Johnson (6-0), averaging 17.5 points per game, will start at guard along with Stuart Toms (5-10). Milton Linder (6-3) will be the outside forward and Dave Clark (6-4) and Robert Cook (6-4) the inside men.

Spring Hill is led by freshman guard Dick Henner, who is averaging 13.5 points per game. Henner and Dennis Major, averaging 7.6, will be at guard and big (6-7) Ron Meier, averaging 11.0, at center.

The Badger forwards will be Gerald Lewis (6-3) and Joe Nolle (6-1). Lewis is scoring at an 8.4 clip and Nolle at a 8.4 pace.

Glen Murphy's Spring Hill club has lost to Mississippi Southern, Loyola of the South, Mississippi State, Southwestern and Mississippi College, 101-94. The Badgers have beaten Northeast, Mississippi College, Loyola and Delta State, 80-77.

West Has Top Pass Attack For Pro Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sunny skies, a crowd of 70,000 and aerial fireworks from quarterbacks Johnny Unitas and Norm Van Brocklin are expected for Sunday's annual Pro Bowl game at the Coliseum.

The West will be looking for its second straight victory over the East behind Unitas, the Baltimore Colts' ace, in the National Football League All-Star battle. The game will be telecast nationally (NBC, 4 p.m. EST).

Unitas, voted the top player in last year's 36-21 victory by the West, will be able to mix his passes with a varied running game to keep Eastern defenders honest. In the West backfield with Unitas will be Jim Taylor of Green Bay and Lenny Moore of the Colts.

Sunday's game will be a swan song for Van Brocklin, who quit the Philadelphia Eagles to the league championship.

The East running attack features four-time NFL rushing leader Jim Brown of Cleveland, John Crow of St. Louis and Ray Renfro and Bobby Mitchell of Cleveland.

Defensive end and tackle Ernie Stautner of Pittsburgh, making his eighth appearance in the post-season dandybrook, said "This is the best team we've ever had out here."

Van Brocklin, who missed last year's Pro Bowl because he was bedded with flu, has three favorite pass receivers going for him in this year's game: teammates Tommy McDonald, Pete Retzlaff and Bobby Watson.

Promoters See Top Return For Ingo-Floyd Bout

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Promoters of the Floyd Patterson-Ingo Johansson heavyweight title bout said Friday they expect "The biggest financial return ever" from the March 18 fight here and put the gross at over $4 million. Bill Fugazy, president of Feature Sports Inc., and Roy Cohn, legal counsel for the firm, outlined plans for the third title fight between the New Yorker and the Swede.

Fugazy said Convention Hall, the fight site, has been scaled to 7,000 seats at $100 each, 5,000 at $50 and 4,000 at $20, for a total of more than $1 million.

Ancillary rights (theater, television, motion pictures and radio) will go to TelePrompTer, and Fugazy said he expects these to exceed $3 million. He reported ABC had bought radio rights for approximately $300,000.

Fugazy said neither fighter has selected a site for his training camp. Johansson is expected here next week, and Patterson is due in the next 10 days.

Amateur Golf

ORMOND BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Marge Burns of Greensboro, N.C., and Doris Phillips of Belleville, Ill., overcame a driving rain and gusty winds Friday for victories in the semifinals of the Women's South Atlantic Amateur Golf Tournament.

They'll meet Saturday for the title in a 36-hole match at the Oceanside, 6,120-yard Ellinger Village Country Club Course.

Miss Burns, a veteran of 10 years of tournament play, defeated Tish Frouse of Pompano Beach, Fla., 3 and 2, while Miss Phillips eliminated Don Talton of Daytona Beach, 4 and 2.

New Back Coach

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP) — Joe Rogers, former assistant and interim head coach, Friday was appointed backfield coach of the Villanova football team.

Lion Gridders Hear Aillet At Banquet Tonight

The Ouchita Parish High School football banquet is set for tonight at 7 o'clock with seven top awards to be handed out among the Lion Gridders.

Louisiana Tech coach Joe Aillet will be guest speaker at the banquet set for the Ouchita High Cafeteria.

Letterman awards, jackets and plaques will be presented along with the seven outstanding awards. Twenty-two lettermen and two Lion managers are scheduled to be awarded. The most valuable player, the best lineman, the best back, the most improved player, the most deserving player, the most cooperative player and the 12th man will be honored tonight.

Hiller's Gift Shop, R&A Jeweler, the Squire Shop, and the Lion coaches will present the awards. Paul Ransom will present the alumni outstanding player award.

The banquet is sponsored by the Lionettes, the school pep squad, and a fine crowd is expected to be on hand to see the Lions awarded for a fine grid season.

Tulsa Coach To Take Job With Calgary

TULSA (AP) — The University of Tulsa lost its head football coach Friday when Bobby Dobbs quit to take a similar job with the professional Calgary Stampede in Canada's Western Interprovincial Football Union.

He will succeed the veteran Steve Orne, who resigned to accept the head coaching post with the Saskatchewan Roughriders of the WFLU.

Dobbs will take along former Tulsa line coach Jess Thompson, now line coach at Texas Tech.

George McMahon, Calgary president, said Dobbs had signed a contract for more than one year. No salary terms were disclosed, but during preliminary negotiations, there were reports that Dobbs had been offered a 5-year pact at $30,000 a year. His Tulsa salary never was revealed, but most guesses put it at around $10,000. His contract still had a year to run.

There was no immediate mention of a possible successor. Said Dobbs' brother, Tulsa Athletic Director Glen Dobbs:

"Up until he announced his decision Friday morning, I had hoped Bobby would stay. As a result I have given no thought about finding a successor."

A fullback at Tulsa and Army, Dobbs returned here as head coach in 1958 after serving as an assistant to Army Coach Earl (Red) Blaik.

In his six seasons at Tulsa, the Hurricane compiled a 30-23 record. Last year's club had a 5-5 record.

Dobbs called the decision to quit his old school "one of the toughest I have ever had to make. But I feel the Calgary job offers a tremendous challenge."

He will join several former Tulsa coaches at Calgary. Jimmy Finks, the Stampede's general manager, is a former Tulsa quarterback, and Rogers Lebow, scout and assistant coach, also is a one-time Tulsa player and assistant coach under Dobbs.

Jerry Keeling, Tulsa quarterback the last three seasons, only recently signed a Calgary contract. Two other former Hurricane players, halfback Ronnie Morris and tackle Ope Bandy, also are on the club.

JOYOUS FANS carry members of the University of Houston basketball team from the court at Sam Houston Coliseum Thursday night after Houston upset second-ranked Bradley, 60-59.

Players being carried off are Ted Luckenbill (34), Gary Phillips (54) and in front is Donald Schverak (30). (AP Wirephoto)

ALL WITH 135

Leonard, Balding, Monti Tied In San Diego Open

By BOB MYERS

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Stan Leonard of Vancouver, B.C., shot a sensational 6-under-par 65 Friday to tie another Canadian, Al Balding of Toronto, and Eric Monti of Los Angeles for the halfway lead in the $20,000 San Diego Open Golf Tournament.

Each had 36-hole scores of 135. Monti, 42, a club professional, carded a 69 after leading in the first round with a 66.

The 36-year-old Balding, among the very last to finish, had a 66. But it was Leonard who shook up the house at the par 35-36-71 Mission Valley Country Club course.

His 32-33 was highlighted by a 90-foot chip shot for an eagle 3 on the 493-yard 10th hole.

Young Gary Player of South Africa, former British Open champion, shot a 69 and lagged just one stroke behind the leaders in the tightly packed field headed for Saturday's third round.

Arnold Palmer, the hero of professional golf in 1960, remained in close contention with a 68 for 137. Tied with him were Billy Casper and Frank Stranahan, both shooting 68s and Frank Boynton, 69, and Jerry Barber, 70.

Bob Goalby, winner of the recent Los Angeles Open, had a 70 for 138 and a tie with three others, including Dow Finsterwald, who shot a 66.

Mike Souchak, the defending champ had a 69 for 141.

Tommy Bolt contributed a ripple of excitement with a hole-in-one on the 189-yard 7th. It was his 13th ace and scored on Friday the 13th. Bolt finished with a 70 for 141.

Another tournament threat, Art Wall Jr., rallied with a 68 for 140. The field was cut to those with scores of 143 and under for the third round. Sixty-one pros made it.

It was a happy Leonard, claiming to be 42 against the 45 listed in the record book, who finished the round.

A six-time winner of the Canadian PGA championship, the $10,000 jackpot in the 1958 Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas, as well as other major laurels, Leonard was particularly hot on the greens.

He holed one birdie putt of 25 feet and closed out the round with two that measured 18 feet each. "I putted like Jesse James," Leonard cracked, adding, "This is the best round I've shot in a long time."

But conversely, Leonard three-putted the 14th green from 4 feet. He stroked past the hole about a foot and missed the putt coming back. He overtook the 15th green and took his other bogey.

Palmer was pleased with his round. "I hit some real good shots and some bad ones," he said. His longest birdie putts measured 20 and 2 feet, and his only bogey came when he took 3 to get down from the edge of the green on the 16th.

Player, despite his 69, observed: "I played so well and came up empty." He referred to three greens that he 3-putted.

Bolt's hole-in-one wasn't good for the tournament's $10,000 bonus. That jackpot is reserved for an ace on the 367-yard 18th.

NORRIS TO RUN

Thomas Out To Crack Records

BOSTON (AP) — John Thomas, untruffled by his Olympic setback, will be out to crack his meet and indoor high jump records Saturday night at the 35th Knights of Columbus Games at Boston Garden.

The 19-year-old Boston University junior wears the "most likely" label in this opener of the major winter meets on banked boards.

Thomas has a meet mark of 7-1/4 and an indoor record of 7-3/4 at which to shoot. The only other defending champions are Yale's Tom Carroll and Jim Stack in the 1,000 and 600-yard runs, and Paul Winder in the dash.

Thomas, whose only defeat in three years cost him the gold medal at Rome, is off to the fast start of his career. With 51 jumps of 7 feet or more behind him, John already has done 7-1/4 twice in as many meets this winter.

Carroll, winner in 2:00.2 a year ago, meets Ernie Cunniff, Stanford graduate student who holds the outdoor mark of 2:07.3. Matched against them will be Ernie Leps of Michigan, third a year ago; Jim Dupree of Southern Illinois, Cary Weisler of the Marines and Fordham sophomore Frank Tomco.

Stack will defend in the 600 against Big Eight champion Joe Mullins of Nebraska, Jim Wedderburn of NYU, the 100-4 quarter-mile king, and Doug Tynan of Fordham.

The other major events appear to offer wide open battles among many new faces and a few old hands.

Minus the glamor of Ron Delany, the mile offers Ed Moran of the New York A.C., former 5-mile champion Deacon Jones, Peter

Close of Quantico, Wesleyan's Steve Parany, Maine's Dan Reaick and Harvard's Mark Mullin.

Off a 4:08.8 effort at Baltimore last Saturday second fastest ever run on a flat floor, Moran is the favorite.

The 2 mile presents a meeting of Englishman Fred Norris, 39-year-old McNeese, La., freshman, and 17-year-old Toronto schoolboy Bruce Kidd. Irishman Pete McArdle and Tom O'Riordan plus 10-4-A cross country king Bobby Low of Brown spice the competition.

Brown Signs To Play With Canada Team

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — All America Guard Tom Brown of Minnesota, a top draft choice in both U.S. pro leagues, Friday signed to play with the Vancouver Lions in Canada's Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Brown, who signed for an undisclosed amount, was the fourth draft choice of both the Bills and the National League's Los Angeles Rams last year.

LINEMAN SIGNS

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Bills of the American Football League Friday signed Harry Rakowski, 225-pound lineman from The Citadel. Rakowski was a "future" draft choice of both the Bills and the National League's Los Angeles Rams last year.

GIANTS INK QB

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Moynihan, 1958 quarterback for Holy Cross, signed to play with the New York Giants of the National Football League Friday. He was their 13th draft choice.

Moynihan, a 6-1, 205-pound passer, dropped out of college after the 1958 season and went into the service. He was not drafted by the American League.

TWO MORE OILERS

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers of the American Football League Friday signed two Bowling Green University linemen, Bob Bird, a guard who was a ninth-round draft choice, and Ralph White, a tackle who was an 11th round choice.

TERRY DOWNES

Pender Defends Crown Against British Slugger

BOSTON (AP) — Paul Pender, the American who fought like an Englishman, Friday was a 9-5 favorite to repel the challenge of Terry Downes, the Briton who fights like a Yank, in their title fight Saturday night.

The two clash in a televised ABC (9 p.m. CST) 15-rounder at Boston Arena for Pender's share of the world middleweight championship. The 30-year-old ex-fireman from Brookline, Mass., is recognized as king of the 160-pounders by New York, Massachusetts and Europe.

Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, is hailed as the champion by the American National Boxing Association.

This is Pender's first start since he beat Sugar Ray Robinson for the second time on a split decision in Boston, last June 10. The rangy stylist, who boxes skillfully and features a snapping left jab, personally picked the 24-year-old Downes as an opponent after watching him fight in London last year.

Downes, an aggressive, go get 'em type like the American club fighter, earned the title shot by beating high-ranking Joey Giardello of Philadelphia in a 10-rounder in London last Oct. 11.

That was the eighth straight victory for the British champion, who developed his boxing talent while serving with the U.S. Marines in 1954-54. A pro less than four years, the confident Cockney has racked up a 24-6 record, including 20 knockouts, in England. "I can beat him," said Downes. "If I didn't think so I wouldn't be here. I'm in great shape, and I think I'll be too strong and busy for him."

Th record is against the young invader. No Briton has won a world title fight in the United States since welterweight Kid Lewis dethroned Jack Britton in this same city 45 years ago.

The contrasting styles seem to favor Pender, who also served in the Marine Corps. The clever New Englander likes an opponent to come to him so he can work him over with stiff jabs and straight rights.

Th champ's confidence also has been bolstered by his two decisions—split though they were—over Sugar Ray.

"I'm going to bat him," said Pender. "He's predictable, and he can't punch like Robinson. Ray has a wide repertoire of punches, and he can take you out with one punch. Downes is not that good a puncher."

Pender hasn't lost since he dropped a decision to Fullmer nearly five years ago. He suffered fractures of both hands in that scrap and had to retire. Fragile hands forced him to quit the ring on two other occasions.

Unbeaten in his last 12 fights, Pender has a 37-5-2 record, including 19 knockouts. He has been a pro 11 years, and for the first time in making real money out of the game.

He stands to make nearly $37,000 on this fight, compared to Downes' $18,750. The champion will collect 60 per cent of the $65,000 television receipts and 40 per cent of the game. Downes will receive 15 per cent of the TV fee and 20 per cent of the boxoffice money.

Promoter Sam Silverman predicted a sellout crowd of 7,500 and a gross take of $50,000.

If Downes should score an upset, he will have to give Pender a return bout in Boston within 90 days. He has agreed to leave his entire purse to secure here to guarantee fulfillment of the contract.

1962 EXPANSION

AFL Paves Way For Adding Team

HOUSTON (AP) — The American Football League Friday paved the way for expansion in 1962.

After rejecting any idea of adding new teams this year, the eight club presidents approved a by-laws change to make expansion easier. Votes by only six clubs now are needed for expansion instead of unanimous approval.

Any 1962 additions to the year-old league would be made before next December.

"It was agreed that if we do expand we would do so before the next draft," said Commissioner Joe Foss. "We have one formal and three informal applications on hand. The club owners instructed their expansion committee to investigate the applications with an eye toward 1962."

Foss declined to identify the applicants or the cities involved. He said, however, the one formal application involved a request for a franchise in any of three cities.

Dates for the 1961 draft have not been set, but Foss indicated the AFL hopes again to get a jump on the National League. Last year the AFL began a telephone draft in late November and began its formal draft Dec. 6. The NFL did not start its draft until Dec. 27.

Foss confirmed reports he conferred in Pittsburgh earlier this week with NCAA representatives on their request that the AFL hold its draft as late as possible.

"I understand similar discussions also have been held with the NFL," he said. "We did not come to any agreement, and we did not set a date for further discussions, but it was agreed a committee from the coaches association also would participate in the next meeting."

"This draft date situation is a problem of both the NCAA and the AFL," Foss added. "They want it as close to the end of the year as possible. They would like to see the draft after the completion of football eligibility and this, of course, involves the post-season bowl games."

Foss said he renewed the AFL's pledge to cooperate with the NCAA in every way possible.

"We appreciate college athletic programs, and we don't want to do anything to disrupt those programs," he said. "One illustration of our sincerity on this is our rule against televising AFL games except on Thanksgiving Day and Sunday. It costs us money our first season, but we intend to stick by it."

Lamar Hunt, founder of the league and president of the Dallas Texans, is chairman of the AFL expansion committee. Other members are Harry Warner, president of the New York Titans, and K. S. (Bud) Adams Jr., owner of the Houston Oilers.

Southern Loop In High Hopes After Meeting

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Southern Association directors met Friday and president Hal Totten said "things look very good" for the 1961 baseball season.

Nashville, still uncertain whether it will retain its 60-year-old charter franchise in the class AA league, made a complete report.

"They are quite optimistic of operating," Totten said.

The Vols, left without a major league working agreement when Cincinnati dropped them last year, are expected to give the final word on their status at a directors' meeting in Nashville next Friday.

If Nashville pulls out, Totten indicated the first invitation to fill the vacancy probably would go to Columbus, Ga.

Columbus recently turned down an invitation to replace Memphis because it didn't have a major league working arrangement.

"But I think Columbus is still open and interested," said Totten. "Undoubtedly they would be offered any opening."

Macon, Ga., which took over the Memphis franchise, has no working agreement but Totten said, "They have made a lot of player contacts and they are very optimistic."

Memphis surrendered the franchise when the club was unable to replace Russwood Park, which was destroyed by fire last year.

Three new directors were elected at the meeting. They are Leon Miller of Atlanta, Dr. Cleo Miller of Nashville, and E. K. Stephens of Macon. Joe Sadler represented Nashville for Miller, who is ill.

The directors also worked on details of the 1961 schedule, which opens April 8.

Others attending the meeting included Ray Winder of Little Rock, Ben Chatfield of Macon, Jasper Donaldson of Atlanta, Bonneau Peters of Shreveport, Joe Engle of Chattanooga, James Wyche of Mobile and Eddie Gleason of Birmingham.

Spring Hill Five Takes On Tribe

Northeast banks on its home-court advantage — which has been 50 per cent effective this year — and outside shooters when the Indians entertain Spring Hill College at 7:30 on the college court tonight.

Spring Hill's Badgers, 4-5 for the season, knocked off the local Indians, 80-74, at Mobile Dec. 10 and Lenny Fant's Tribe hopes a new setting will tip the scales their way.

Tonight's opponent will be the third Northeast has played both at home and on the road. Northeast opened the season with a 30-point victory over Arkansas A&M in Arkansas but then lost a one-point nod to A&M here two days later.

The home - gym advantage paid off, however, in Northeast's games with Arkansas State, the Arkansas club winning a 77-56 decision at Jonesboro but falling by 76-66 here.

A factor to be considered is that the home game with Arkansas A&M was played on the Ouachita court instead of in the college gym, which wasn't completed at that time. The switch to the college gym has helped boost attendance, both of Northeast students and ordinary fans. In a third game between Northeast and Arkansas A&M, played on the college floor during

West Has Top Pass Attack For Pro Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sunny skies, a crowd of 70,000 and aerial fireworks from quarterbacks Johnny Unitas and Norm Van Brocklin are expected for Sunday's annual Pro Bowl game at the Coliseum.

The West will be looking for its second straight victory over the East behind Unitas, the Baltimore Colts' ace, in the National Football League All-Star battle. The game will be telecast nationally (NBC, 4 p.m. EST).

Unitas, voted the top player in last year's 33-21 victory by the West, will be able to mix his passes with a varied running game to keep Eastern defenders honest. In the West backfield with Unitas will be Jon Arnett of Los Angeles, Jim Taylor of Green Bay and Lenny Moore of the Colts.

Sunday's game will be a swan song for Van Brocklin, who quit as a player after leading the Philadelphia Eagles to the league championship.

The East running attack features four-time NFL rushing leader Jim Brown of Cleveland, John Crow of St. Louis and Ray Renfro and Bobby Mitchell of Cleveland.

Defensive end and tackle Ernie Stautner of Pittsburgh, making his eighth appearance in the post-season donnybrook, said "This is the best team we've ever had here."

Van Brocklin, who missed last year's Pro Bowl because he was bedded with flu, has three favorite pass receivers going for him in this year's game: teammates Tommy McDonald, Pete Retzlaff and Bobby Watson.

Promoters See Top Return For Ingo-Floyd Bout

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Promoters of the Floyd Patterson-Ingo Johansson heavyweight title bout said Friday they expect "The biggest financial return ever" from the March 13 fight here and put the gross at over $4 million.

Bill Fugazy, president of Feature Sports Inc., and Roy Cohn, legal counsel for the firm, outlined plans for the third title fight between the New Yorker and the Swede.

Fugazy said Convention Hall, the fight site, has been scaled to 7,000 seats at $100 each, 5,000 at $50 and 4,000 at 20, for a total of more than $1 million.

Ancillary rights (theater, television, motion pictures and radio) will go to TelePrompTer, and Fugazy said he expects these to exceed $3 million. He reported ABC had bought radio rights for approximately $300,000.

Fugazy said neither fighter has selected a site for his training camp. Johansson is expected here next week, and Patterson is due in the next 10 days.

Amateur Golf

ORMOND BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Marge Burns of Greensboro, N.C., and Doris Phillips of Belleville, Ill., overcame a driving rain and gusty winds Friday for victories in the semifinals of the Women's South Atlantic Amateur Golf Tournament.

They'll meet Saturday for the title in a 36-hole match at the oceanside, 6,120-yard Ellinor Village Country Club Course.

Miss Burns, a veteran of 10 years of tournament play, defeated Tish Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla., 3 and 2, while Miss Phillips eliminated Dot Talton of Daytona Beach, 4 and 3.

New Back Coach

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP) — Joe Rogers, former assistant and interim head coach, Friday was appointed backfield coach of the Villanova football team.

Lion Gridders Hear Aillet At Banquet Tonight

The Ouachita Parish High School football banquet is set for tonight at 7 o'clock with seven top awards to be handed out among the Lion Gridders.

Louisiana Tech coach Joe Aillet will be guest speaker at the banquet set for the Ouachita High Cafeteria.

Letterman awards, jackets and plaques will be presented along with the seven outstanding awards. Twenty-two lettermen and two Lion managers are scheduled to be awarded. The most valuable player, the best lineman, the best back, the most improved player, the most deserving player, the most cooperative player and the 12th man will be honored tonight.

Hillier's Gift Shop, R&A Jeweler, the Squire Shop, and the Lion coaches will present the awards. Paul Ransom will present the alumni outstanding player award.

The banquet is sponsored by the Lionettes, the school pep squad, and a fine crowd is expected to be on hand to see the Lions awarded for a fine grid season.

Tulsa Coach To Take Job With Calgary

TULSA (AP)—The University of Tulsa lost its head football coach Friday when Bobby Dobbs quit to take a similar job with the professional Calgary Stampede in Canada's Western Inter-provincial Football Union.

He will succeed the veteran Steve Owne, who resigned to accept the head coaching post with the Saskatchewan Roughriders of the WIFU.

Dobbs will take along former Tulsa line coach Jess Thompson, now line coach at Texas Tech.

George McMahon, Calgary president, said Dobbs had signed a contract for more than one year. No salary terms were disclosed, but during preliminary negotiations, there were reports that Dobbs had been offered a 5-year pact at $20,000 a year. His Tulsa salary never was revealed, but most guesses put it at around $10,000. His contract still had a year to run.

There was no immediate mention of a possible successor. Said Dobbs' brother, Tulsa Athletic Director Glenn Dobbs: "Up until he announced his decision Friday morning, I had hoped Bobby would stay. As a result I have given no thought about finding a successor."

A fullback at Tulsa and Army, Dobbs returned here as head coach in 1955 after serving as an assistant to Army Coach Carl (Red) Blaik.

In his six seasons at Tulsa, the Hurricane compiled a 30-28-2 record. Last year's club had a 5-5 record.

Dobbs called the decision to quit his old school "one of the toughest I have ever had to make. But I feel the Calgary job offers a tremendous challenge."

He will join several former Tulsans at Calgary. Jimmy Finks, the Stampede's general manager, is a former Tulsa quarterback, and Rogers Lehe, scout and assistant coach, also is a onetime Tulsa player and assistant coach under Dobbs.

Jerry Keeling, Tulsa quarterback the last three seasons, only recently signed a Calgary contract. Two other former Hurricane players, halfback Ronnie Morris and tackle Opie Bandy, also are on the club.

JOYOUS FANS carry members of the University of Houston basketball team from the court at Sam Houston Coliseum Thursday night after Houston upset second-ranked Bradley, 60-59.

Players being carried off are Ted Luckenbill (34), Gary Phillips (54) and in front is Donald Schverak (30). (AP Wirephoto)

ALL WITH 135

Leonard, Balding, Monti Tied In San Diego Open

By BOB MYERS

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Stan Leonard of Vancouver, B.C., shot a sensational 6-under-par 65 Friday to tie another Canadian, Al Balding of Toronto, and Eric Monti of Los Angeles for the halfway lead in the $20,000 San Diego Open Golf Tournament.

Each had 36-hole scores of 135. Monti, 42, a club professional, carded a 69 after leading in the first round with a 66.

The 36-year-old Balding, among the very last to finish, had a 66. But it was Leonard who shook up the house at the par 35-36-71 Mission Valley Country Club Course.

His 32-33 was highlighted by a 90-foot chip shot for an eagle 3 on the 493-yard 10th hole.

Young Gary Player of South Africa, former British Open champion, shot a 69 and lagged just one stroke behind the leaders in the tightly packed field headed for Saturday's third round.

NORRIS TO RUN

Thomas Out To Crack Records

BOSTON (AP) — John Thomas, unruffled by his Olympic setback, will be out to crack his meet and indoor high jump records Saturday night at the 35th Knights of Columbus Games at Boston Garden.

The 19-year-old Boston University junior wears the "most likely" label in this opener of the major winter meets on banked boards.

Thomas has a meet mark of 7-1/4 and an indoor record of 7-2 1/2 at which to shoot. The only other defending champions are Yale's Tom Carroll and Jim Stack in the 1,000 and 600-yard runs, and Paul Winder in the dash.

Thomas, whose only defeat in three years cost him the gold medal at Rome, is off to the fastest start of his career. With 51 jumps of 7 feet or more behind him, John already has done 7-1/4 twice in as many meets this winter.

Carroll, winner in 2:09.2 a year ago, meets Ernie Cunniff, Stanford graduate student who holds the outdoor mark of 2:07.3. Matched against them will be Erges Lepes of Michigan, third a year ago; Jim Durrey of Southern Illinois, Cary Weisger of the Marines and Fordham sophomore Frank Tomeo.

Stack will defend in the 600 against Big Eight champion Joe Mullins of Nebraska, Jim Wedderburn of NYU, the ICA-A quarter-mile king, and Doug Tynan of Fordham.

The other major events appears to offer wide open battles among many new faces and a few old hands.

Big Mill Wins At Fair Grounds

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—W. Hal Bishop's Big Mill outbattled Marty Dee in the stretch Friday and won the Fair Grounds feature by a nose.

Jockey Sandino Hernandez pushed the four-year-old colt in front after the field made the turn and then held on for the narrow margin. Waukesha, the other half of the Bishop entry, took the show spot.

Big Mill raced the six furlongs in 1:12 3-5 and returned $10.20, $4 and $5. Marty Dee paid $4.60 and $4 and Waukesha paid $5 as the other half of the entry.

The 8.246 fans wagered $387,317 on the nine races.

Close of Quantico, Wesleyan's Steve Paranya, Maine's Dan Rearick and Harvard's Mark Mullin.

Off a 4:08.8 effort at Baltimore last Saturday second fastest ever run on a flat floor, Moran is the favorite.

Homemakers Ask And Betty Pepis Answers

Don't Overheat Or Drown Your Holiday Plants

Q. — I had planned to get foam rubber cushioning in the new furniture I want to buy. A neighbor, however, has just bought a living room set in foam rubber and the whole room smells of the rubber. Now I am frightened of foam. Is this smell always present, does it eventually wear away, or is it simply because her foam is of poor quality?

A. — When foam rubber was introduced, some years ago, there were many complaints of an odor attached to it. Research and new production techniques eliminated this problem for the most part. Some foam today, called polyfoam, is of plastic and when new may have a slight odor which disappears in a short time. Surest test is simply to follow your nose. In the store, lift one of the foam cushions and sniff. If there is no smell there will be none, as foam does not develop odors. Foam is convenient and comfortable; don't be scared off by your neighbor's experience.

Q. — My living room seems terribly cold and I would like to warm it with new paint or slipcovers. Walls are grey, rug is green, sofa and one chair are lime. Draperies are pale pink and one chair is in pink and yellow floral print.

A. — The grey walls are the problem; I would repaint them in a pale warm yellow or soft pink to match the curtains. Either of these would be warm, flattering tones, and would work well with your furniture. A bright shade of the wall color could be used for accessories.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Heeding a few tips will prolong your enjoyment of the poinsettias, azaleas and other plants brightening your house during the holiday season.

Most professional growers ship gift plants in porous clay pots to insure plants of the highest quality. But if you have received a holiday plant in a thin-walled, non-porous container; transfer it to a clay pot to preserve its health and beauty.

Horticultural experts say that over-watering is a leading cause behind the premature death of plants. One rule of green thumb gardening indoors is to water all your plants at the same time daily until water runs out of the drainage hole in the bottom of the clay pot.

DEAR ABBY

Environment Easier To Improve Than Heredity

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: We have been having an argument. Just how much of a person's success and failure is due to heredity and how much is due to environment? — STUDENTS

DEAR STUDENTS: No one really knows — but environment is the easier of the two to improve.

DEAR ABBY: I am 23, divorced and have two children. My boy friend is 30, married and has two children also. He was my boss at one time and we fell deeply in love. A month ago I had a child by him. No one knows anything about this. The baby is in a home right now waiting for me to sign the adoption papers or take him home.

My boy friend can't get a divorce without sacrificing his family, business and religion. He said if I kept the baby he would always provide for him. Should I keep the baby and raise him with my two? Or should I give him up? Please don't ask me to give up my boy friend. I love him so much I could never do it, so there's no use kidding myself.

— "BIG DECISION"
DEAR BIG DECISION: The answer is not in my head — it's in your heart. You show no concern for the baby's welfare but mention only yourself, your "boy friend" and your determination to cling to an illicit love affair. Keep the baby only if you decide to give up your boy friend. Any other decision would complicate the lives of many innocent people.

Homemakers Ask And Betty Pepis Answers

Q. — I had planned to get foam rubber cushioning in the new furniture I want to buy. A neighbor, however, has just bought a living room set in foam rubber and the whole room smells of the rubber. Now I am frightened of foam. Is this smell always present, does it eventually wear away, or is it simply because her foam is of poor quality?

A. — When foam rubber was introduced, some years ago, there were many complaints of an odor attached to it. Research and new production techniques eliminated this problem for the most part.

Some foam today, called polyfoam, is of plastic and when new may have a slight odor which disappears in a short time. Surest test is simply to follow your nose. In the store, lift one of the foam cushions and sniff. If there is no smell there will be none, as foam does not develop odors. Foam is convenient and comfortable; don't be scared off by your neighbor's experience.

Q. — My living room seems terribly cold and I would like to warm it with new paint or slipcovers. Walls are grey, rug is green, sofa and one chair are lime. Draperies are pale pink and one chair is in pink and yellow floral print.

A. — The grey walls are the problem; I would repaint them in a pale warm yellow or soft pink to match the curtains. Either of these would be warm, flattering tones, and would work well with your furniture. A bright shade of the wall color could be used for accessories.

Don't Overheat Or Drown Your Holiday Plants

NEW YORK (UPI) — Heeding a few tips will prolong your enjoyment of the poinsettias, azaleas and other plants brightening your house during the holiday season.

Most professional growers ship gift plants in porous clay pots to insure plants of the highest quality. But if you have received a holiday plant in a thin-wall, non-porous container; transfer it to a clay pot to preserve its health and beauty.

Horticultural experts say that over-watering is a leading reason behind the premature death of plants. One rule of green thumb gardening indoors is to water all your plants at the same time daily until water runs out of the drainage hole in the bottom of the clay pot.

RUG, SURFACED WITH RAYON, captures all of the colors in a room designed by Paul Krauss. Utilizing a new process, the individual shapes of carpet are attached to each other much like jig-saw puzzle parts. Seams are invisible because special adhesion meth-

Fabrics Are Inspiration For Room's Color Scheme

By BETTY PEPIS
Using a fabric as inspiration for a room's color scheme is a tried and true tradition. That the results can have a fresh and unconventional flavor, however, is demonstrated in a series of settings arranged by designer Paul Krauss using a varied collection of Avisco rayons.

An upholstered chair supplies the theme for one of these arrangements. The covering, a bold floral print in brilliant copper, olive and blue, suggests not only the shades of an accent rug but also painted panels used to give distinction to an entertainment wall on which hang suspended a record player and the two necessary speakers as well as shelves for books and a terra cotta painted antique wooden horse.

The three wood panels, taking their clue from the fabric have been painted vividly contrasting shades, "reading" from left to right: red, olive green, and yellow green. Hanging units are white or blue.

The colorful wall composition this creates obviously demands subdued treatment of the rest of the room in which natural wood tones and textures are stressed. The brilliant wall inspired by the color tones of the textiles, is a most unusual focal point.

In a children's room, a wall and the facade of a wooden chest are fabric-covered with a printed pattern of orange, lilac and mustard on white. The fabric-covered chest is, incidentally, a neat easy-to-copy trick that would make a shabby piece happily adaptable to a child's room.

The room is divided in two by wood-framed screens on which fabric is stretched. Headboard and scatter rug are different colors in the two segments of the room — each of which features a color selected from the print on the wall.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Baby's Problems Seem Strange To New Mother

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

It isn't unusual for a new mother, just home from the hospital, to feel utterly helpless. She was sure that all the baby would do would be to eat and sleep!

The baby cries, she finds, when she thinks he should be sleeping. He breathes so hurriedly, at times, that she is sure something must be amiss. When she comes near him, he jumps and his arms fly out as if he were terrified. His eyes wander out of focus when he tries to look at her. After almost every meal he hiccups.

All of this is typical infant behavior. There is nothing wrong and age will take care of all of it. As for the crying, it gives her pause. Shall she pick him up when he cries or leave him alone if he was recently fed? Always some of her friends will tell her to leave him alone or he'll get used to attention and demand it.

"Spoiled" is the word they use. Other, fresher voices, express the opposite opinion. "When he cries he needs attention, and who will give it to him if you don't?"

Let's agree that all babies cry for short periods during the day when there is not too much that needs attention. They stop of their own accord and look around as if there never had been a cry in them. But if they keep on crying for a maximum of 10 minutes, make up your mind that there is something you can do for them.

It could be a wet or soiled diaper. For their comfort and the health of their skin, change it promptly. It may be they want to be cuddled. Think of their long months in a snug spot and imagine how comforting it is for them to be held close to the warm body of the mother.

But, it may be hunger if they have been fed two or more hours before. During the first few weeks of life a baby is a voracious eater. He takes only small portions he has put on about an ounce at a time so he may eat seven or eight times a day.

He's Different

By the end of the fourth week he has put on about an ounce a day so he is quite a different looking little guy. He has filled out, he can wait longer between feedings and he has lost some of that new-baby behavior we mentioned before.

If there is any rule a young mother can follow without fear of its boomeranging, it is that she is obligated to keep the baby comfortable in every possible way. Turn him, hold him, cuddle him, feed him.

His early impressions of whether this is a friendly world which fulfills his needs, or a neglectful one which ignores him, are being made during these first few weeks of life. If we want to impress him with our love for him, this is a profitable time to do so.

If you would like to have our 10-cent booklet "The First Six Months" send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

YOUR PROBLEMS

This Son Deserves Reward From Parents

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 15 and a sophomore in a boy's high school. I work 25 hours a week after school and on Saturdays.

My problem is my parents who insist that I pay my own tuition ($250 a year) plus all school expenses, clothing, gifts and contributions. This means I don't have one penny left to save for a hi-fi set I've been wanting for three years. Of course I don't get any allowance because I'm told "you work."

When I see my friends getting from $3 to $8 a week spending money I get pretty mad. I get B's in school and think I do pretty well. When I tell them they are too hard on me and I'd like a little time to myself they say, "We're going to keep you so busy you won't have time to get into trouble."

Both my parents work and they make good money. Our home is paid for and we have a new car every two years. They think nothing of buying $40 worth of liquor at one time.

I am going to list my expenditures and I'd like your advice on where to cut down so I can save $75 a year toward a hi-fi set. I know this will take a lot of your time and I never expect to see this in the paper because it will take up too much space, but I "do" need your help.

$250.00 tuition for one year

30.00 3 pairs of shoes for one year

21.00 school books

14.00 4 shirts and two ties

34.00 underclothing

65.00 overcoat, hat and gloves

22.00 jacket

2.80 7 pair of socks

9.00 milk at school

30.00 Christmas gifts for Mom and Dad

25.00 Christmas gifts for other relatives

10.00 Christmas cards

4.00 postage cards

50.00 Church donations ($1 every Sunday, sometimes only 75 cents)

$566.80

I made $600 last year. Not listed above is a $7.00 corsage for Mother's Day and a $10 plant for Easter.

You can see I have $39.80 not accounted for. With this I go to an occasional movie or ball game. I pay bus fare when I can't get a ride, and sometimes I buy dessert at school. (I carry my lunch.) I want a hi-fi more than anything in the world but I don't see how

I'll be able to buy it. —BITTER

Dear Bitter: You and all the teenagers who read this are going to hate me, but I think your folks have done a simply marvelous job of raising a self-reliant, dependable, self-disciplined son. Your letter was so unusual I decided it justified devoting the whole column to it. You are growing up with an abundance of self-respect, personal integrity and the priceless experience of managing yourself—and you are doing it beautifully.

Your budget, however, raised a few questions: Why a $65 overcoat every year? And $34 a year for underwear... are you wearing link shorts? Finally, where can you get seven pair of socks for $2.80.

As a reward for being a first-rate teenager I'm suggesting to your folks that they buy you a hi-fi set for your next birthday.

You have earned it. —ANN LANDERS

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for "Ann Landers" booklet, "Teenage Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Coughing Spell Solves Problem Of Rifle Slug

BRainerd, Minn. (AP)—

Harold Peterson has coughed up an old problem.

Peterson, 30, had a coughing spell in the American Legion Club. Out came a rifle slug.

Peterson was hunting 24 years ago when a rifle discharged accidentally. The slug pierced his cheek, passed through his neck and lodged in the base of the skull.

A doctor said there was no need for surgery.

Over the years Peterson suffered an occasional stiff neck. For the past week he had a sore throat.

"I felt much better now," he said Friday, looking at the memento.

Fashion puts a snug foot forward in new over-the-sock boots. They come in heights ranging from ankle to just under the knee level. Stylists have fashioned the rubber boots in gay colors such as gold and red, high-fashion olive green, the boots are lined with flannel or pile.

The smartest men are wearing de-cuffed and, in some instances, de-pocketed trousers. The fashionable pants are tapered to 17 inches at the ankle, 19 inches at the knee. They hang straight, breaking just at the ankle and feature an accented waist devoid of pleat and tucks.

Shifting patterns of color—such as those in a kaleidoscope—have inspired California designers to create a bright new look for beach and patio in 1961. The colors are bold, brilliant and unadulterated. Varying shades of coral, violet and gold get special emphasis. The designers also are stripe-happy—using stripes from hairline to barber-pole size.

25.00 Christmas gifts for other relatives

10.00 Christmas cards

4.00 postage cards

50.00 Church donations ($1 every Sunday, sometimes only 75 cents)

$566.80

I made $600 last year. Not listed above is a $7.00 corsage for Mother's Day and a $10 plant for Easter.

You can see I have $39.80 not accounted for. With this I go to an occasional movie or ball game. I pay bus fare when I can't get a ride, and sometimes I buy dessert at school. (I carry my lunch.) I want a hi-fi more than anything in the world but I don't see how

I'll be able to buy it. —BITTER

Dear Bitter: You and all the teenagers who read this are going to hate me, but I think your folks have done a simply marvelous job of raising a self-reliant, dependable, self-disciplined son. Your letter was so unusual I decided I justified devoting the whole column to it. You are growing up with an abundance of self-respect, personal integrity and the priceless experience of managing your self—and you are doing it beautifully.

Your budget, however, raised a few questions: Why a $65 overcoat every year? And $34 a year for underwear . . . are you wearing mink shorts? Finally, where can you get seven pair of socks for $2.80.

As a reward for being a first-rate teenager I'm suggesting to your folks that they buy you a hi-fi set for your next birthday. You have earned it. —ANN LANDERS

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for "Ann Landers'" booklet, "Teenage Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Coughing Spell

Solves Problem

Of Rifle Slug

BRainerd, Minn. (AP)—

Harold Peterson has coughed up an old problem.

Peterson, 39, had a coughing spell in the American Legion Club. Out came a rifle slug.

Peterson was hunting 24 years ago when a rifle discharged accidentally. The slug pierced his cheek, passed through his neck and lodged in the base of the skull.

A doctor said there was no need for surgery.

Over the years Peterson suffered an occasional stiff neck. For the past week he had a sore throat.

"I felt much better now," he said Friday, looking at the memento.

United Press International

Fashion puts a snug foot forward in new over-the-sock boots. They come in heights ranging from ankle to just under-the-knee level. Stylists have fashioned the rubber boots in gay colors such as gold and red, high-fashion olive green, the boots are lined with flannel or pile.

The smartest men are wearing de-cuffed and, in some instances, de-pocketed trousers. The fashionable pants are tapered to 17 inches at the ankle, 19 inches at the knee. They hang straight, breaking just at the ankle and feature an accented waist devoid of pleat and tucks.

Shifting patterns of color—such as those in a kaleidoscope—have inspired California designers to create a bright new look for beach and patio in 1961. The colors are bold, brilliant and unadulterated. Varying shades of coral, violet and gold get special emphasis. The designers also are stripe-happy—using stripes from hairline to barber-pole size.

Trial Dates For Two Set By Garrett

Judge David I. Garrett yesterday set trial dates for two of the three persons who were indicted earlier in the week by the Ouachita Parish Grand Jury, sentenced another to the state penitentiary at Angola and fined five persons for operating motor vehicles while under the influence of intoxicating beverages. The action was part of a large docket in Fourth District Court.

Sentenced to one year in the state prison on each of two counts, the terms not to run concurrently, was Donald Wayne Parker, 22-year-old Florida parole violator, who had pleaded guilty to burglary. Parker was apprehended earlier in the week by Monroe city police and booked for burglary of two automobiles parked in a downtown parking lot. He was brought into court

Thursday, pleaded guilty and was remanded until yesterday.

Henry Reininger, Jr., 32, 507 D'Arbonne Ave., Monroe, pleaded not guilty to a murder charge in the death of his wife, Mrs. Mickey Reininger, 33, on Christmas Day. Reininger's trial will be set later.

Reininger was indicted by the parish grand jury Tuesday in a special session report. Mrs. Reininger died en route to a Shreveport hospital and the body was returned to Monroe. The corner reported that she had died of injuries suffered several days before.

At first the man told officers that his wife had fallen from the family automobile while the couple was driving near the home. However, under questioning, Reininger admitted fighting with his wife and throwing her out of a Layton Street tavern on the Friday before Christmas Day, Sunday.

Set for May 1 was the trial of James O. Williams, Jr., Ruston Negro, indicted for murder by the parish grand jury in the death of another Negro; Charles Carter, Carter was injured during an altercation near a Negro night spot in the western part of the parish. Williams was charged with aggravated assault, but when Carter died, the charge was changed to murder.

Williams, arraigned today, pleaded guilty, and the trial date set.

The third person indicted by the grand jury, Charlie Willis, Negro, pleaded guilty, and the trial date set.

Clark was also given a fine of $50 and costs, plus six months in the parish jail for negligent injury. The balance of the term will be suspended on January 17, if the other fines and court costs are paid.

An unauthorized use of a movable charge against Clark was continued without date.

Trial of Paul W. Moss, 32, 110 Hines Lane, West Monroe, was set for March 24. He, too, is charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages.

A bond was called on J. W. Williams, Negro, 24, of Bastrop, who did not appear to answer the drunk driving charge.

Lewis Bridges, Jr., 511 Wood Street, Monroe, will be tried on May 1 for criminal damages to property over $500. The charge grew out of Bridge's escape from the Monroe city jail, when he tore a hole in the ceiling of the white male cell and then through the roof of the building.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered on Thomas Orville Miller, 28, Baton Rouge, who pleaded guilty to theft of gasoline and tires valued at $109.31.

Two men, Reuben Deason, 33, 1128 Wood Street, West Monroe, and James Edgar Elmore, Miller Hotel, Monroe, will be tried on February 24 for simple burglary of Moore's Bar in West Monroe on January 5.

25, pleaded not guilty to an attempted murder charge. Willis faces the charge as a result of the July 13 incident which occurred in the back yard of the home of Robert Fuller, 38, on La Tichell Road, south of Monroe. Four others were killed and Willis was injured.

Trials for other felony cases brought into court were: Jack Hutson, 37, and J. L. Foster, 41, both residents of the west part of Ouachita Parish, pleaded guilty to theft of cattle and will be tried on February 23.

Marilyn Zaijor, Port Arthur, Texas, will be tried on May 1 for theft of an automobile, valued at $2,000, from a Monroe car rental service.

In other action, Judge Garrett: Fined Tommy M. Slavent, 28, 701 Mitchell Lane, West Monroe, $400 and sentenced him to 125 days in the Ouachita Parish jail, for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of intoxicating beverages. He also received a fine of $50 or 15 days, plus 30 days compulsory for having no driver's license.

Pined $300 and costs of court, or 60 days in jail, were four other persons who pleaded guilty to operating motor vehicles while under the influence of intoxicating beverages. They were Jesse Lee Brantley, 60, 128 Egan Street, West Monroe; Albert Clark, Jr., 37, Box 237, West Monroe; James J. Thomas, 32, 118 Ragan Street, West Monroe; and Annie Mae Longstreath, 42, 515 Stone Avenue, Monroe.

Clark was also given a fine of $50 and costs, plus six months in the parish jail for negligent injury. The balance of the term will be suspended on January 17, if the other fines and court costs are paid.

An unauthorized use of a movable charge against Clark was continued without date.
